

Police Study Money Deals Of Slain Banker Marcus

Gambler Ciancana Is Sought

... For Questioning

CHICAGO (AP) — Detectives dug into the big money deals of Leon Marcus Monday in an effort to find out who killed him and why.

Marcus, who came to nationwide notice last summer as a prime figure in the 2½ million dollar Orville Hodge scandal, went to his death carrying more than $300,000 in cash and checks and a copy of a receipt for $100,000 paid by a hoodlum.

The receipt, dated Feb. 1, 1955, "received from Mr. S. A. M. Giancana $100,000 to apply on mortgage in the amount of $150,000 on the property located at 5400 N. River Road known as River Road Motel."

Sam (Mooney) Giancana, a gambling boss of the old Capone syndicate, was hunted for questioning.

Check For $300,000

A check for $300,000 was found in Marcus' wallet. It was made out to Marcus, drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio, dated June 28, 1956, and signed by an oil promoter named John Harmon.

Harmon, 50, who lived in Evansville, Ind., was killed in an automobile accident Sept. 22, 1956, near Carmi, Ill.

Harmon's widow and Joe Vol Butt, a member of the law firm handling the Harmon estate, said they didn't know Marcus or of any business he had with Harmon. A revised inventory of the contents of Marcus' wallet and pockets showed he had $312,840 in cash and checks. Included were $3,600 in travelers checks, $1,640.82 in currency and coins and a dozen checks for amounts ranging from $40 to $2,800 and adding up to $9,240.

Checks drawn on out-of-town banks included one for $40 on the First National Bank of Phoenix, Ariz., and one for $100 on the First National Bank of Lake Geneva, Wis.

May Have Planned Trip

The travelers checks and an international air travel card indicated Marcus may have planned to take a trip abroad.

Marcus, 61, was the majority stockholder of the Southmoor Bank & Trust Co. in Chicago when Orville Hodge, then state auditor of Illinois, funneled more than one million dollars in phony state checks through it.

U.S. Lifts Mideast Travel Ban

... No Fighting Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Monday night lifted its five-month-long ban on travel to Egypt, Israel, Syria and Jordan.

At the same time, the State Department authorized nearly 200 diplomats and foreign aid specialists, plus their dependents, to return to their posts in the four Middle East countries.

The officials were pulled out, along with 2,300 private American citizens, from these countries after Israel attacked Egypt last Oct. 29.

The travel ban was imposed two days afterward.

A State Department spokesman in announcing the ending of travel restrictions, said it meant this government believes that, barring unexpected developments, no new outbreak of fighting is in the offing in the Middle East.

Press officer Lincoln White said the move "could be" tied to discussions United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld held last week with Egypt's president, Gamal Abdel Nasser, in Cairo.

The two men discussed plans for operating the Suez Canal as well as moves to maintain the Middle East peace.

YES Has 50 Applicants

YES—Lincoln's new youth employment service—did a "booming business" on its first day of operation.

Nearly 50 teenagers applied for jobs at the service office in the YMCA Monday between 4 and 6 p.m. Helen Hockabout, service director, said.

YES is sponsored by the Sertoma Club with the assistance of the Lincoln Youth Project.

Miss Hockabout, a University of Nebraska freshman from Omaha, reported a long waiting line when the office opened for the first time Monday.

About half those applying were boys and a large number of applications came from ninth grade students. Applications were received for both full-time summer work and part-time work during the school year.

Office hours during the school year will be 4-6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday; 3-5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and 8 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday.

Judy Humann, Southeast High School junior, is assistant director.

At the same time applications are taken, Lincoln business firms and individuals are being asked to advise the YES office of any jobs they might have for teenagers.

No placements have been made yet, Miss Hockabout said.

BOMBER EXPLODES, 6 KILLED

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — Six persons were killed Monday and four others parachuted to safety when a converted B-25 bomber exploded in the air near Hickman, Tenn.

The bomber, en route from Langley Air Force Base in Virginia, was carrying 10 officers and civilian employees to a conference in Memphis.

Four parachuted from the plane and were hospitalized in Hickman, 40 miles west of Nashville.

Survivors were identified as Lt. Robert C. Monier, John R. Sampson, Haskell L. Daniels and Jack Evans.

The Air Force identified the dead as Col. Theodore R. Wright Jr., 36, aircraft commander, Birmingham, Ala.; Lt. Col. Alan D. Moore, pilot, 37, Belle Fourche, S.D.; Lt. Col. Jacob R. Hamilton, 38, Medford, Mass.; Lt. Col. Harlan C. Duttrill, 42, Decatur, Tex.; Maj. J. W. Brown, 41, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Airman I.C. Ernest Chandler, 22, Jamaica, N.Y.

Witnesses said the plane developed engine trouble while flying over some bad weather, and started to descend when it "turned over on its back, went into a power dive, and then exploded in mid-air."

Angry At Firing, Omahan Pounds Man With Bat

OMAHA (AP) — John Pitts Jr., 17, angered because he was fired from his job, beat Lawrence Marshall, 60, with a baseball bat at a downtown Omaha intersection Monday.

Marshall was not seriously hurt. Pitts told police had been fired by a restaurant manager who found him asleep while on the job. He was mad at Marshall, he said, because Marshall was supposed to wake him but didn't.

Pitts said he was driving when he saw Marshall. He stopped his car, grabbed the bat and attacked Marshall from behind, he said.

Dr. Richard Niebuhr:

'Three Kinds Of Faith Bid For Attention Of Western Man'

Three forms of faith are continuously bidding for the attention of Western man, Dr. H. Richard Niebuhr, professor of theology and Christian ethics at Yale University Divinity School, said Monday night.

Dr. Niebuhr, 1957 Montgomery Lecturer at the University of Nebraska, said:

"The faith of men in all times seems on examination to appear in two main forms which we may call its polytheistic and monotheistic forms or, to use non-theological terms—the pluralistic and social types.

"In general that form of faith which nationalism represents is the characteristic monotheistic form. The reality for the sake of which men live in this form of faith is the tribe, the nation, the civilization or, ultimately, mankind itself."

This type of faith, also expressed in ethics, customs and laws, has the collective as its author and is designed for the maintenance of the collective life, Dr. Niebuhr said.

The second form of faith, polytheism, in its modern form appears as the cultivation of art for the sake of art, of science for the sake of science, of religion for religion's sake, or morals for the sake of right, he said.

On the whole such polytheism only achieves compromises among the various causes and objects of qualified trust, Dr. Niebuhr said.

The third form of faith, Dr. Niebuhr said, is radical monotheism, "the trust of selves in isolation and in community in the One beyond all the many as the center of all value. It is the confidence that whatever is, is good, because it exists as one thing among the many that have their origin in the One."

Radical monotheism has two consequences: "It relativizes every particular being; it de-thrones all absolutes except the principle of being itself," the Yale professor said.

Dr. Niebuhr will deliver the second in a series of three lectures Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Over 1,000 At Hotly-Disputed Balloting For Posts On Arnold Hospital Board

ARNOLD, Neb. (AP) — Louis De-teding and Cecil Pearce were elected to the Arnold Hospital Board Monday night at a meeting attended by over 1,000 persons who packed the Arnold High School gymnasium and overflowed into the halls.

Defeated were Mrs. Winifred Johnson and Bert Sochtman. The winners were supporters of the board in its dispute with former hospital staff physician Dr. E. H. Reeves. The losers were pro-Reeves.

The election left the board with the same 6-1 anti-Reeves majority. Dr. Reeves recently submitted a petition for readmission to the hospital staff.

The meeting was under direction of Dwight Steel, chairman of the board, who said that because the hospital is a corporation only those holding membership cards could vote and at first ruled that only card holders would be admitted.

But a group of Reeves supporters "shouldered" their way in and it was then decided to admit everybody who could crowd into the gym, eight special officers hired by the board circulated around and while there was some jostling, jeering and booing no real violence occurred.

One man, Lester Schloatman, who was not allowed to vote, said he planned to file a court suit in protest.

High Court Hears Arguments In Parker Murder Case Appeal

Darrel Parker was denied due process of law in his Lancaster County District Court murder trial, his attorneys charged Monday before the State Supreme Court.

Parker was convicted in May, 1956, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the strangulation slaying of his wife, Nancy, the previous December. He had been Lincoln city forester.

Kenneth Cook of Glenwood, Ia., an attorney representing him, challenged the admissibility of Parker's signed confession, which Cook charged had been obtained "involuntarily" by John Reid, Chicago criminologist.

Both Cook and Max Towle of Lincoln, Parker's co-defender, claimed that without the confession there was "no substantiating evidence whatsoever" that Parker had committed the crime.

Reviewing the step-by-step account of the murder, Cook raised objections to various testimony in the trial. He said that "Parker had a trial by newspaper" and "it simply was not fair."

State Says Fair Trial

Asst. Atty. Gen. Homer Hamilton, representing the state in the appeal, claimed that Lancaster County Attorney Elmer Scheele and District Judge John Polk did "everything possible" to insure that "Parker's trial was fair."

It was pointed out by Hamilton that there was no sign of a struggle in the Parker house, and that evidence showed the Parkers had had marital trouble for some time.

Atty. Cook contended that "psychological" force was used in obtaining Parker's confession of the crime.

Defense Attorney Towle told the court that he talked with a person recently who knows where the watch worn by Nancy at the time of her slaying could be located.

Towle claimed that Scheele had made "prejudicial statements" in his closing arguments to the jury. He also charged misconduct on the part of Court Reporter Audrey Wheeler, who had taken Parker's confession.

Towle advanced what he termed a "theory" that Mrs. Parker was slain by another man, an ex-convict.

Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parker of Henderson, Ia., were present during the argument.

4 Graduating NU Coeds To Take Jobs In Alaska

Four coeds graduating from the University of Nebraska are planning to teach school in Anchorage, Alaska.

Kay Christensen of Lincoln, Marilyn Christensen of Oakland, Sue Rohrbach of Hastings and Carolyn Gailley of Omaha—all 21 and members of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority—will begin teaching duties in Anchorage in the fall.

All but Miss Christensen, who will instruct in a junior high, will teach first grade.

Why Alaska? One young lady said the quartet had made a thorough check, and found Anchorage promised to be a unique and interesting place in which to teach.

"The city also has a male ratio of 8 to 1," she explained.

Summerfield Asks Postal Rates Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield said Monday some mail services will have to be curtailed unless the Senate restores a $58-million-dollar budget cut made by the House.

Summerfield also put in a plug for the Eisenhower administration's request to increase postal rates as he appealed to a Senate Appropriations Committee to approve all the funds sought by his department for the year starting July 1.

The department has asked 3 1/4 billion dollars. The House allowed $3,152,000,000.

"We will do our best to continue to give better service at lower cost," Summerfield said in a statement, "but we will be unable to operate the Post Office Department in fiscal year 1958 with the appropriation passed by the House, without curtailment of some postal services to which the public has become accustomed."

'Economies'

He said post offices around the country would have to make economies and listed these as possible steps:

Eliminate all Saturday mail delivery; restrict Saturday delivery in cities to first mail only; reduce deliveries in business sections to two a day; eliminate sale of money orders by all except country post offices; fail to provide any new city routes in cities and suburbs.

Summerfield said post offices expect to handle some 58 million pieces of mail in the next year, a 1 1/2 per cent increase over present volume. He said expenses were estimated as precisely as possible and asserted:

"The hatchet approach in the false guise of economy can only cut through directly to the daily postal services."

The department also has asked for a supplemental appropriation of 47 million dollars for the current fiscal year to make up an estimated deficit which has been applied to payrolls to handle the stepped-up volume of postal business.

"The real solution is to raise the rates," Summerfield said. "In the meantime, we should not, while we are waiting, be denied the money we need to continue the service to everyone."

Dr. Adams 'Meant To Kill,' Narcotics Expert Testifies

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Arthur Douthwaite, a top authority on narcotics, testified Monday that Dr. John Bodkin Adams "meant to kill" when he gave a wealthy elderly widow "35 times the normal maximum dose" of heroin and morphine.

But both Douthwaite and another medical witness for the prosecution agreed under cross-examination there might be some room for disagreement—however small—in Dr. Adams' motive in prescribing the drug.

The testimony apparently caused little concern to the stout society doctor, who ended the 11th day of his murder-for-greed trial leaning confidently forward in the prisoner's box.

Dr. Adams' patient, Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, died in November, 1950, after five days of the injections.

'Error'

Dr. Douthwaite said that because Dr. Adams held a degree in anaesthesia he ruled out any possibility that drugs might have been administered through "error, ignorance or incompetence."

Justice Patrick Arthur Devlin then pressed Dr. Douthwaite to say whether another medical authority might feel Dr. Adams ordered the injections through error, ignorance or incompetence.

Dr. Douthwaite, a tall, thin man with a craggy, florid face, at first answered "yes."

Later, when the justice repeated the question, Dr. Douthwaite said "I can only say I really would be astonished."

Two Men Resign From Police Force

Two members of the Lincoln Police Department have resigned, Chief Joe Carroll reported Monday.

He listed them as George Finley, 2957 No. 36th, and Robert Bussard, 1065 No. 33rd. Finley will rejoin the Navy for duty at the Lincoln Naval Air Station, Carroll added. He said he did not know Bussard's plans.

Both men were on the 3:30 p.m. to midnight shift. Finley was a cruiser officer and Bussard a foot patrolman.

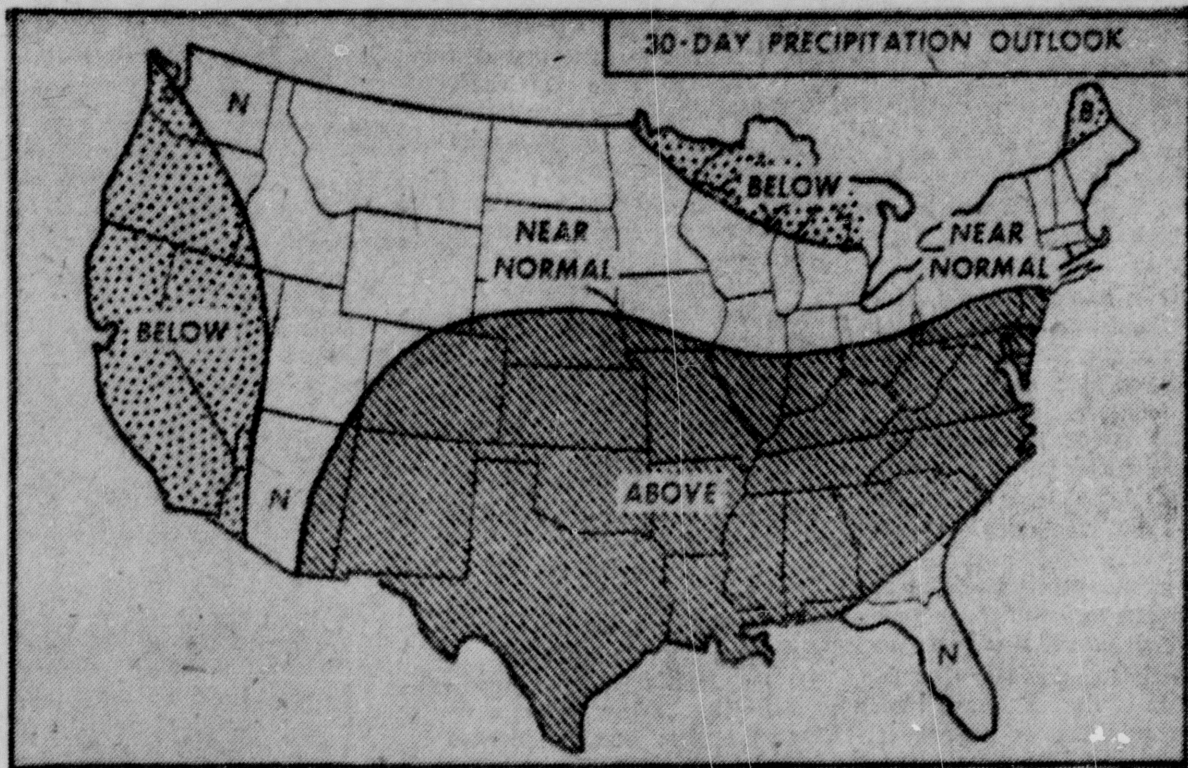

Finley had served about seven years on the force, from June, 1947, to August, 1953, and from December, 1955, to this Monday. Bussard joined the department last October.

No replacements have been hired yet, Carroll said.

Her husband, Edward Ralph DeGarmo, 29, was given a 90-day jail term on an accessory after the fact charge. He had admitted to concealing knowledge of the alleged crime.

In refusing Mrs. DeGarmo's plea for probation, Judge Harry Spencer noted the defendant was involved in 27 other check forgeries since last July in three other states.

Have you thought of asking for a raise?

One way of getting a raise is to ask the boss for it. But here's another practical suggestion: ask yourself for it. More people every day are putting their extra money to work to raise their income. Here's what many tell us they are doing:

First: They realize you don't have to be wealthy to own stock — that two out of three shareholders have incomes under $7500 a year. Then they think, "Why can't I do that?" And they decide that maybe they, too, can own stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Second: Acting promptly on this discovery they drop in that very day on a broker in a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. There they receive a friendly welcome and lots of information. They find out that by using the Monthly Investment Plan they can buy stocks in some of America's most famous companies for as little as $40 every three months — up to $1000 a month. The Plan helps them invest regularly, on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Third: When they buy stock they become part owners of a company. As owners they can share in profits through dividends. And if the company grows the value of their stock can also grow. Or if they buy bonds, they become creditors of the company and, in most kinds of bonds, the company promises to pay interest at a fixed rate and to repay the principal of the bond on a fixed date.

Fourth: Before they invest a nickel they get the facts about the company. They never act on tips or rumors. They know that a company may not grow and may not pay dividends. And they use only money left over after the bills are paid and family emergencies provided for.

Fifth: But they know also that there are some 280 stocks on the Exchange that have paid cash dividends every three months from 20 to 92 years. Decks Cleared For Action

If it accomplishes nothing else the current session of the Nebraska Unicameral legislature is entitled to credit for one genuine achievement. It has completed bill hearings nearly a month earlier than any previous session of the Unicameral. Its committees have ground out their work although the number of bills introduced was the largest since the one-house system went into effect.

The advantage of efficient committee work is manifest. In disposing of hearings on bills

Two Years From Tomorrow

The Des Moines Register is enthralled by the realization that within two years Iowans will be able to get into their cars, drive to Chicago or Milwaukee and there on the Great Lakes board ocean going liners—Europe the next stop.

And it is, indeed, an arresting and significant thought for Nebraskans, too, because, relatively speaking those two ports are almost next door.

The Register is referring to the approaching completion of the St. Lawrence seaway project—a deepening of river and lake channels sufficient to make Great Lakes cities ocean-going ports. The seaway is scheduled for completion in 1959.

The opening of actual travel is not speculative.

Down To Our Size

A national budget calling for $71.8 billion and covering a myriad of federal activities somehow eludes the average citizen not accustomed to thinking in astronomical terms.

It was a public service, therefore, when the St. Louis Post Dispatch did the spade work that reduced the budget to comprehensible terms, principally in showing how much of the tax dollars goes to what. Its results were:

National security	59 cents
Interest	10 cents
Veterans	7 cents
Agriculture	7 cents
Labor and Welfare	4.9 cents
International Affairs	3.3 cents
Commerce and Housing	2.5 cents
National resources	2.1 cents
General Government	2.1 cents
Debt Retirement and Misc.	2.1 cents

It becomes quickly evident that security and

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

One of the current magazines devotes a substantial amount of space to the Missouri Basin and its big dams. Of chief interest is the cheap electricity to be developed as a result of hydro-electric developments contributing to flood control, to irrigation, to generation of power, to recreation, and finally to navigation. Nebraska is the only Missouri Basin state wholly served by public power agencies. All of the rest have private power to some degree—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas nearly solidly served by the private utilities. Naturally they have no love for Nebraska.

Frequently this paper has been critical of Sen. Carl Curtis of Minden and his Senate colleague, Sen. Roman Hruska of Omaha. The time has arrived to give both a pat on the back and to express appreciation to the two for work well done. Although they fought a losing fight in the Senate back in Washington, nevertheless they led the unsuccessful battle against a section of the water projects bill which in effect will nullify the preference clause which public bodies enjoy in the sale and distribution of electricity generated by projects constructed by Uncle Sam. They not only fought a losing fight strictly in the interest of the people of Nebraska, for which they deserve the commendation of Nebraskans, but they have even gone to the trouble of alerting the people of this state to the dangers of the watershed bill under which a billion and a half dollars in new water projects received authorization. Included in that group is Salt-Wahoo in eastern Nebraska and initial funds for Gering and Mitchell. The Eisenhower administration on every occasion has undertaken, it has seemed, to voice its opposition to public power. Now, the preference clause which this so-called water project bill wipes out stretches all the way back to a well-known, popular American President, long identified with the Republican party. Reclamation policy had its earlier beginnings under the late Theodore Roosevelt.

Lyle Marolt of Hoskins, Nebraska, indicated that the REA districts of this state which he heads, 27 in all, servicing more than 80,000 farm homes in Nebraska, may send a delegation back to Washington in opposition to the Senate version of the water projects bill. More power to them! If we are thinking in terms of industrial development in the years ahead, then this amendment to which Curtis and Hruska alerted their fellow Nebraskans is of utmost concern to us.

We are making gratifying strides in the expansion of our irrigation program. From now on the bulk of it will embrace pump irrigation, which means that every step safeguarding the subterranean water table is important. But we are thinking in Nebraska in terms of more factories and more industries. Easily cheap electricity from the Missouri dams could become as important to Nebraska in terms of jobs and paychecks in the next 25 years as in the last 25. This particular legislation sponsored by Sen. Case of South Dakota is only a part of the struggle shaping up in Washington between the private utilities on one hand and public power on the other. The real issue is the survival of public power under the attack that has been launched during the Eisenhower administration.

What the people have ignored, however, is that the watershed approach is in itself a death blow to public power. The small dam which can be built under the watershed program, with a limitation of 5,000 acre-feet on storage does not make sufficient provision either for substantial irrigation programs or for the production of hydro-electric energy. The Case amendment to which Curtis and Hruska point concerns the huge dams on the upper Missouri, including Randall, Garrison, Oahe and finally Ft. Peck.

Needed Services Get Economy Ax

WASHINGTON — Last week, Washington watched a stampeding coalition of Republicans and Democrats cut down appropriation after appropriation in the Eisenhower budget like a tractor-drawn mowing machine knocking down a field of hay.

In their headlong rush for economy, they lopped off such items as $20,000 for research into radiation from atomic fallout. Apparently the congressmen did not know that we live in an atomic age. They knocked off $100,000 to revise the cost of living index, something both management and labor find absolutely necessary in fixing wages.

They knocked off $50,000 to hire three or four women in the Women's Bureau to study the employment of older women, a problem which has greatly increased of late. The coalition shrewdly prompted Congresswoman Blitch of Georgia to make the motion cutting the Women's Bureau.

And they knocked off $100,000 for the Bureau of Veterans' Re-employment, an agency of great importance to veterans, especially since the GI bill of rights is no more.

As these important, but inexpensive items were thrown into the congressional ashcan, not one Republican rose to champion the budget of the Republican administration. Some of the Democrats stood up to defend the President, but not one Republican.

PIDDLING SAVINGS

After three days of frantic amendments, Congressman John Fogarty, Rhode Island Democrat, reminded his hell-bent-for-economy colleagues that they had cut only $1,345,000.

Nation Watches Rise Of Kennedy

WASHINGTON — What precise planning and unlimited means can do for an attractive politician who wants to be president will be demonstrated at the 1960 Democratic national convention.

The politician is the young World War II veteran, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who was elected to the Senate from Massachusetts in the Eisenhower landslide of 1952 after three terms in the House. A sudden alliance of southerners opposed to Senator Estes Kefauver with the big city leaders almost put Kennedy in the second slot of the Stevenson ticket in 1956.

The drama of that occasion and his sportsmanship in defeat made him one of the most sought-after speakers of the campaign. With a shrewd eye to the future, he made himself and his own smart staff available to Democratic candidates all over the country.

That demand continues. Between January 1 and March 27, 1957, Kennedy had 668 written invitations to speak, with virtually every state of the union represented. This was in addition to similar requests by telephone at the rate of one or two a day.

He has accepted 38, 15 of them in Massachusetts. The balance is discreetly distributed among Democratic gatherings elsewhere, including Missouri, Alabama, California, Ohio, Nebraska, Delaware and New Mexico.

The high percentage of home state engagements reflects the senator's immediate goal, which is to prove himself the greatest vote getter the swing state of Massachusetts has ever seen. Kennedy will be up for re-election in 1958.

Victory by a tidal wave could well serve his hopes in several ways. Obviously any candidate gains prestige when he swamps his

World Is Still Dreadful Place

NEW YORK—This mortal coil... the abduction and dreadful murder of Mrs. Anita Carroll by Iranian bandits and slave-traders brings us to the jolting realization—especially if you live in the security of the U.S.—that there are still vast sections of the earth where the law of the jungle, or worse, is accepted as routine.

It would be impossible to compute the number of murders, as we identify and isolate murder, which take place throughout this supposedly civilized sphere each day. Cannibalism, the worship of sun and stars, witch-hunting, voodoo, crude and refined torture chambers, and all other depravities so many of us associate with the improbable fiction of our youth, are still very much alive today.

It is said that the handshakes which we take so much for granted were begun as a gesture of reassurance, that no knives were being held with which to plunge into the other's heart. The great lock industry grew out of preying raids on man's little acre and his hut.

Bugs Baer, in tracing the primitive history of man and his recent efforts through the United

JESUS LOVED THEM

Woman Who Touched His Robe

Jesus was on His way to the house of Jairus to raise—that official's daughter from the dead, when this nameless woman in the crowd about Him, demonstrated the power of intense faith.

There were probably two reasons that she did not openly ask Jesus to heal her.

First, according to religious law among the Jews, she was considered unclean.

Second, the intimate nature of her illness was such that she probably considered it immodest to mention it publicly.

Instead, she said within herself: "If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole."

She did not realize that Jesus would be aware of her touch, made with such intense hope, based upon implicit faith.

In the multitude that accompanied Him, many must have brushed against Him, or plucked at His sleeve with this or that request.

But the touch of this woman was different. It was the hand of faith, reaching out to salvation.

And Jesus immediately turned and asked those about Him: "Who touched me?"

Everyone denied having done so. Then Peter said:

"Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?"

Jesus explained that somebody had touched Him, "for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me."

When she saw that her act had been discovered, the woman came forward, trembling. Falling at Jesus' feet, she confessed to Him and to everybody present why she had touched Him, and how she had been instantly healed.

"And behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment."

Jesus, who was always gentle with the troubled in spirit and contrite, reassured her.

"Daughter, be of good comfort." He told her. "Thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace."

As Prof. F. Davidson observes, "It is still true that while multitudes throng Jesus, it is the few who touch Him."

Gratifying Focus

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star:
The virtues of Nebraska's unicameral legislature are brought into gratifying focus by the reading of newspapers from other states where legislatures are generally in session. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch headlines on the front page, "Republican Measure Directed Against Democratic Governor" and "Senate and Assembly Deadlocked." In Washington state, partisan feelings stalled progress because a Democratic governor vetoed a Republican patronage bill. Similar delays are occurring in Kansas, Maine and Minnesota.

If there are any political issues in the Nebraska legislature, the senators have not been partisan enough to permit them to delay studied consideration of the proposed measures. In fact, it seems that the present body of lawmakers is doing just about what Senator Norris had in mind when he gave birth to the idea of a non-partisan single group of statesmen.

HORACE DAVIS.

LB 431

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star:
I trust that we have a very sincere group of legislators and that they will give LB 431 (the slum clearance and housing bill) a royal "last rites" procedure. People should realize that some of the cost will have to come from them—if not through taxes, then in higher rent and other living costs. We all support the federal government, too.

Read page 4, line 38. It will cost Lincoln $10,000 just to organize a five-man authority. Then read page 5, line 29—go three miles beyond the city limits. Page 11, line 40—use eminent domain if necessary. Page 12, sec. 7—take the law in own hands. Page 15, lines 19 and 20—take charge of water, public utilities, schools, transportation. Page 16, sec. 12, lines 18 to 33—tax-exempt.

Read LB 431 and you will have a glimpse of how five men could operate a government behind the "iron curtain." The public should vote on it.

State Salaries

Nebraska City, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star:
We see the Nebraska legislators are on their usual salary-raising spree. The same old alibi—pay is inadequate, out of line with other states or private industry. The excuse that other states will hire them away from us is ridiculous, to say the least. If all elected officials would walk off the job, there are dozens of others waiting to take their places who could do equally as well and perhaps better. Most will agree that the determining factor in any state's wage scale is its population and wealth. If that is so, then Nebraska hasn't taken a back seat. We're right there in line with the best of them, regardless of our wide open spaces and sparse population of 1,325,510.

Here are some facts on salaries paid by various sized states, some from two to 10 times larger in population and some certainly wealthier. The figures are from the 1957 World Almanac, Pages 103-106.

Iowa: Pop. 2,621,073—governor, $12,000—secretary of state, $7,500—attorney general, $8,500—treasurer, $7,500—auditor, $7,500.
Colorado: Pop. 1,325,069—secretary of state, $8,000—treasurer, $8,000—auditor, $8,000.
Kansas: Pop. 1,995,299—secretary of state, $7,500—attorney general, $8,000—treasurer, $7,500—auditor, $7,500.
Connecticut: Pop. 2,007,280—secretary of state, $8,000—treasurer, $6,000—comptroller, $8,000.
Oklahoma: Pop. 2,233,351—secretary of state, $6,000—attorney general, $8,000—treasurer, $7,200—auditor, $6,000.
Pennsylvania: Pop. 10,498,012—governor $25,000—secretary of state, $15,000—auditor, $15,000—treasurer, $15,000.
New York: Pop. 14,830,192—governor, $50,000—secretary of state, $17,000—comptroller, $25,000.
Michigan: Pop. 6,371,766—governor, $22,500—auditor, $12,000—treasurer, $12,500—secretary of state, $12,500.
California: Pop. 10,586,223—governor, $25,000—secretary of state, $14,000—treasurer, $14,000—comptroller, $14,000.

California pays its treasurer $14,000. He probably handles plenty of money, including those Tidelands oil millions (Nebraska school children's heritage). Does it make sense, then, for Nebraska to pay $10,000? What is so difficult about Nebraska's work that an attorney general is considered worth $12,000? Iowa hires one for $3,500 less; Kansas pays $4,000 less.
Why should Nebraska pay an auditor $10,000 a year? Colorado hires one for $2,000 less; Iowa for $2,500 less; California pays only $14,000. And why should Nebraska pay $10,000 for a secretary of state? New York hires one for $17,000; California for $14,000; Oklahoma for $6,000; Iowa for $7,500.
It certainly does no credit to the business ingenuity of Nebraska's legislators or governor to force Nebraska taxpayers to pay a salary scale that is all out of proportion to the work involved. Certainly other states don't do it although many of them have sales and income tax money to throw around. Nebraska's Legislature is top-heavy with big farming interests who yell day and night for tax relief for property.

TAX TIRED

Prepared For Worst

Curtis, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star:
President Nasser of Egypt might well remind us of a certain patient who was taken to a hospital. The doctor's preliminary examination suggested that there was a blood clot on the brain. But when the patient had rested the doctor made a more complete examination and reported that he found the blood clot all right, but there was no brain there.
Nasser has had his rest after last fall's explosion and now the world finds it must deal with a madman. He, in effect, tells the U.N. that it is none of its business what he does with his Canal. And he tells Israel that he is determined to destroy her.

Now no one needs eyes in the back of his head to know that this threatens war. When Israel sees a dangerous build-up of her enemies she will strike and she will whip her enemies. This will very likely happen in 1957. Our government may strive for peace but there is no peace and we had better be prepared for the worst.
Europe would be well advised to stockpile wheat and oil and do so rapidly. This certainly appears to be the struggle which was foreseen by the prophets 2,500 years ago.

The most important thing about travel this year seems to be the guided tour.

People no longer ask: "Where are you going?" They ask: "Who are you going with? Neil Vanderbilt or Fielding?"

It is terribly important to go with the right tour conductor. Like choosing the right White Hunter. And I imagine everyone will be pleased to know that my tour is socially calibrated to compete with all others.

"I have never been a tour conductor," I said. "I can probably punch the tickets. But I will feel awfully foolish with one of those changemaker things around my waist."

"It is not like a street car conductor," the travel agent explained. "It is your knowledge. Why," said the agent romantically, "I can see you now. Gay French music. The rognons de veau sizzling while a rich odor of old cognac rises over the table. I can visualize it."

"You can?"

"Your tour. The Girls from Maxim's," he said with a wink.

"Can you get me into Maxim's?" I said eagerly.

"Why," said the agent frowning, "I supposed you were strictly chez vous and en rapport, as we say, in the gay European haunts. Such as Maxim's."

"Albert won't let me in," I said gloomily.

"Who is Albert?"

"The head waiter. Albert only lets in dukes and duchesses. And King Farouk. He is the maitre of all the maitres d'hotel. However, he spoke to me once."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'Sorry, Monsieur, the tables are all taken until next April.'"

"When was that?"

"June."

The travel agent looked a little pensive. "We call it 'The Gourmet Tour,'" he said. "London in June! Punting on the Thames! A journey to Romance down the Rhine! Rome as it should be seen."

"Tell me," he said anxiously. "I know Alfredo well and have talked with him many times."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'Signor, the fettuccini is all gone.'"

"And what did you do?"

"I went over and had a sandwich at Bricktop's."

The travel agent looked a little white. But he set his jaw firmly. "We have also booked you into Horcher's, in Madrid. Candlelight and a ruby bottle of Marques de Riscal! Strawberries and champagne! By the way, you are acquainted with the vintages?"

"I can never remember whether you stir the stuff to keep the bubbles in or to get them out," I said, miserably. "Any way, I have never been to Horcher's. I usually audition the suckling pig in that little place on the corner of the Grand Plaza."

Wilbert

"Let me get this board straight before you nail it."

POLICE CIVIL SERVICE MEASURE OK'D

A bill providing for police civil service commissions in cities of 5,000 to 40,000 population was approved by the Legislature and sent to the governor Monday.

The measure, LB 305, also provides that such commissions be optional, at the discretion of voters, in cities of less than 5,000 population.

The bill was acted upon just one day in advance of municipal elections in several Nebraska communities.

Sen. David Tews of Norfolk, introduced, obtained legislative permission to have the bill considered on final reading Monday, one day earlier than scheduled, in order that enactment might precede the municipal elections.

Sen. Tews explained that in cities to which the new law applies, newly-elected mayors thus would be precluded from making political appointments to police departments.

LB 305 won 34-1 approval in the showdown test.

Also passed on final reading was LB 57, permitting a municipality to deposit funds in a bank even though an officer of the bank happens to be serving as mayor, councilman or member of the city board of trustees.

Introduced by Sens. John Aufenkamp of Julian and Dwain Williams of Broken Bow, LB 57 was approved 37-0.

Period For Special Assessment Payment Extended To 20 Years By City Council

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

An extension from 10 to 20 years in the time permitted for payment of special assessments has been approved by the City Council for a group of special improvement districts.

The longer payment period was recommended by Mayor Bennett Martin.

"With taxes constantly increasing," Martin said, "it is too much to ask that special assessments be paid up within 10 years. The cost of these improvements has increased substantially in recent years so the time of payment should also be extended."

Many Objectors

Martin said he was prompted to make his recommendation following recent meetings of the Council as the board of equalization. Many persons appeared at these meetings to express disapproval of the cost of the improvements. Many people sign up for these improvements, Martin said, and then are surprised to find out what they cost. The 20-year payments should make it easier for them.

The entire assessment could still be paid all at once at any time if a property owner so desired.

Interest Eyed

Councilman Rees Wilkinson said the people will not feel they have been done any favor when they realize they will just be paying interest on the unpaid assessments for another 10 years. The city, he said, should give these people the benefit of the interest rate it receives on bonds sold to finance the improvements.

These bonds generally have sold recently for about 3 per cent interest. Property owners are charged 5 per cent interest on the balance of unpaid assessments.

City Finance Director Theo Berg

has often explained that the city makes no money on the exchange of interest. The 2 per cent difference in rates, he said, is more than eaten up with cost of administering the assessment program.

Notice For All

Martin also advocated the giving of notice of assessments in all cases.

Present law does not require notice on improvements made within one mile of the City Hall.

However, Martin said, the cost of this work is assessed back against the property owners and it is only fair to inform them of the cost involved.

The 20-year payment period will apply to assessments for paving, water and sewer. These payment periods are now 10 years for paving, five years for water and two years for sewer.

Resurfacing—10 Years

Resurfacing and grading assessments will be payable within 10 years.

The equalization board and later the Council approved assessments with the new period in paving districts 1254, 1402, 1408, 1415, 1424, 1425 and 1427; in alley paving district 265; in water districts 422, 430, 437, 448 and 454; in grading district 67 and improvement district 45.

May Vote On Proposed New City Charter Unlikely; Mayor Opposed

Chances of a vote of the people at the May general election on the proposed new city charter appeared remote as Mayor Bennett Martin announced his opposition to such action.

Martin said he was not in favor of a vote on the charter at the next general election.

"Every possible avenue of education should first be employed to fully inform the people on the extent of proposed changes and what they would mean. To change our city charter is serious business and no emergency exists."

Williams Agrees

Agreement with Martin's position was expressed by Attorney Frank D. Williams, chairman of the Charter Revision Committee.

Time is too short, said Williams, for an explanation of the new charter by May.

Williams also said he felt the Committee as a whole agreed with this.

Martin has proposed appointment of "an education information committee to educate voters on charter changes. The committee would present both sides of the issues involved."

Hurried Decision 'No Fair'

"From my conversations I have concluded that it is not fair to expect our people to make a hurried decision on important matters of this type until all facts are exposed through open debate and extensive informative lectures."

Martin's proposal was made after adjournment of Monday's City Council meeting so there was no expression by that group on the issue.

Williams said the Committee expects to have the charter in the hands of the Council before the end of this week.

Resurfacing Of South To Begin Soon

Work is expected to start this week, possibly Tuesday, on the resurfacing of South St.

City Engineer Carl Fisher said the first work will be between 30th and 33rd. Throughout construction, Fisher said, the city will put out detour signs to help motorists find another route of travel.

The second project will be between 33rd and 38th, the third project from 38th to 40th and the fourth and final project from 40th to 48th.

Aug. 15 Deadline

The entire project must be completed by Aug. 15. It is hoped, Fisher said, that this deadline is beaten.

The work, he said, will be pushed as fast as possible. Motorists will certainly be inconvenienced, he said, but are asked to understand the need for this work and be patient.

A new routing for the Lincoln City Lines Normal bus line is being worked out.

Fireman Firing Case Laid Over By City Council

No action was taken by the City Council Monday on the case of Robert Lybarger, discharged from the Lincoln Fire Department on March 7 for alleged "insubordination."

The Council has heard an appeal of the discharge from Attorney Frederick Wagener for Lybarger. The Council also has the report of the Personnel Board, upholding the discharge.

The Council was to meet Monday with Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster and Police Chief Joseph Carroll. Junge, however, is out of the city due to a death in the family and the meeting and discussion of the case was thus laid over.

Local Plumbers Apprenticeship May Be Changed

An ordinance has been introduced to the City Council changing the period of apprenticeship for plumbers.

The present law requires a three-year apprenticeship while the new measure would require five years.

Also introduced was an ordinance to change the zoning on property at Highway 6 and Havlock Ave., from rural and public use to highway commercial.

Another ordinance was introduced for the opening of 46th from Mohawk to A.

Passed on third and final reading was an ordinance for the vacation of a narrow triangular piece of the southeast corner of 9th and Hill.

Boycott Ending

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The bus boycott by Africans which entered its 13th week is showing signs of ending.

The boycott front cracked when two out of three meetings held in Alexandria township on the city's northern outskirts voted to end the daily 9-mile hike to work.

296 Homes Burn

NIIGATA, Japan, (Tuesday).—A fire fanned by high winds Tuesday destroyed 296 houses and other buildings in Bunsui, 170 miles north of Tokyo, police reported. They estimated 1,500 persons were homeless in the town of 15,000.

West Lincoln Board Seats Vote Today

Three members of the West Lincoln village board will be elected Tuesday.

Seven candidates are seeking the three city posts, including present board members Clifford Anderson, Lyle Allen and Merle Wilken. The four other candidates are John Brown, Harold Hawkins, Abner Pearson and Jesse Lafer.

Mayor Fred Way and Fay Hawkins are holdover board members this year.

Liquor-By-Drink

Mayor Way said the liquor-by-the-drink issue, a controversial proposition in West Lincoln for many years, may be a deciding factor in the outcome of the election.

Some persons seeking the board positions are in favor and some are opposed to issuing liquor-by-the-drink licenses to the Ranch House, Royal Grove and Blue Moon Tavern, he continued.

He said three candidates probably would favor issuing the licenses.

Of the two hold-over members, Way last October voted against and Hawkins for the issuance of liquor-by-the-drink licenses. Anderson and Allen voted against the proposal. Wilken, the other board member seeking re-election, was appointed about a month ago to fill a vacancy, and was not on the board at the time the issue was decided.

Way said a policy of liquor-by-the-drink was not "feasible" close to the city of Lincoln, and has been vigorously opposed by city and University of Nebraska authorities.

Opponents at the October hearing on the Ranch House, Royal Grove and Blue Moon applications argued that the city of Lincoln has threatened to shut off the village's water supply if liquor-by-the-drink was legalized. The town buys its water from Lincoln.

Supporters of the applications claimed the on-sale liquor would bring more trade to the community.

NEWS AROUND TOWN

Save Your Heart

DID SOME checking this morning on various events—and their dates, such as—the wedding of Miss Janet Edmiston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edmiston of Seattle, Wash., and Robert M. Lewis, which takes place on Tuesday, May 7.

We hear that the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. A. R. Edmiston, will be leaving for Seattle within the next two or three weeks—and that Miss Edmiston's aunt, Mrs. Arnett Folsom, who plans to be in Seattle several days ahead of the wedding, will be joined there early in May by Mr. Folsom.

WONDERED when Miss Kitty Lilly would be coming home from Manhattanville College, Purchase, N.Y. She isn't. Miss Lilly will be spending her Easter holiday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Seymour of Grosse Pointe, Mich., at their winter home at Vero Beach, Fla.

Miss Lilly's vacation, we are told, begins on April 17 and she will have 10 whole days to spend in Florida.

ON Monday evening's calendar was a birthday surprise party for which Mrs. Gates Minnick was hostess when she entertained in celebration of Mr. Minnick's anniversary—Eight guests were invited for an informal evening.

OFF TO the east coast last Saturday went Miss Joan Rae Westfall, daughter of Mrs. Fern Westfall of Malcolm, who planned to Jersey City, N.J. where she will take a four-months postgraduate course in obstetrics.

Miss Westfall, a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, and Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, is a member of Bryan's nursing staff.

HEAR that Mrs. Thomas Tobin (the former Donna Borgaard) and her children, will be arriving on Wednesday or Thursday to spend some time as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Helen M. Borgaard, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Bayley.

Lt. Tobin is now on TDY, but when he returns to Greenville, Miss., where he has been stationed—and the family has been residing—it will be just long enough to pack and be on his way to his new assignment in Abilene, Tex., where he and his family will be stationed.

The unusual part of the story is this:

Mrs. Tobin has a twin sister, Mrs. Murray D. Backhaus, whose husband also is a lieutenant in the Air Force. The twins have been separated since they became Air Force wives, but strange as it may seem they are about to be together again. Lt. Backhaus, who currently is stationed in Sacramento, Calif., is to be transferred—to Abilene, Tex.

This is the first in a series on the Adult Education course of Heart Saving Homemaking.

Help for Lincoln Homemakers who suffer from heart trouble, muscular dystrophy, or polio—or any chronic illness—is on the way through the newest class to be offered by the Lincoln Public Schools adult education department which will begin Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in room 112 of Lincoln High School.

"Heart-saving Homemaking" will teach the homemaker how to save herself, how to conserve her energy in household chores, how to plan and rearrange her kitchen to suit her physical handicap, and above all, how to schedule her many duties so that she will have time for rest and for leisure with her family.

Techniques and methods of

SAI Seniors

The alumnae of Sigma Alpha Iota national music sorority will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wayne L. Copper, Calvert Place, to honor the graduating seniors of the collegiate chapter at the University of Nebraska.

Honored seniors will be Miss Dorothy Bereuter, Miss Mary Louise Gunlicks, Miss Shirley McPeck, Miss Rosemary Weeks and Miss Phyllis Malony.

Assisting hostesses for the 8 o'clock meeting will be Mrs. M. C. Mayo, Miss Mary Louise Holding, Miss Pauline Slonecker, Miss Margaret McGregor and Mrs. Frank A. Williams.

The program of organ numbers will be given by Mrs. Edith Meginnis, Mrs. Jack Snider and Miss Grace Finch.

working in the kitchen, cleaning, doing the family laundry, and ironing and caring for small children, which will be instructed by Miss Lois O. Schwab. Films will be shown illustrating the many "heart-saving" tricks which can help the physically disabled as well as those who merely want to do their housework more efficiently.

Modeling the most important "first step" in heart-saving homemaking is Mrs. William A. Smith, a heart patient who does her own housework and is the mother of three active sons aged 8, 5 and 3.

Mrs. Smith is demonstrating the first important rule—REST—and is taking advantage of a quiet moment to plan her week's schedule. To learn to use your head to save steps, and to let others (in this case, Bill Jr.) run the errands and "fetch and carry" is the subject of the first lesson of the series.

Navy Wives

Members of the Navy Wives Club will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening when the group meets at 7:30 o'clock at the Officers Club at the Naval Air Station.

Plans Meeting

The Lincoln Chapter of the Mount St. Scholastica alumnae will meet at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Farrell, 821 Mulder Dr.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

When Mrs. Max Hulbert entertained last Friday evening, several neighborhood ladies were on hand for a late pizza dinner. Present were Mrs. Paul Cussack, Mrs. Norman Stones, Mrs. Morris Huelle, Mrs. Robert Glatz, Mrs. David McEntire, Mrs. A. W. Wilson, Mrs. Art Mapstead, Mrs. Duane Grantski and Mrs. Dale McCracken. During the evening slides of France, Italy and Germany were shown by Mrs. Stones and scenic slides of the states were displayed by Mrs. McEntire.

Mention of the neighborhood get-together reminds us that the same group of Eastridge friends will be among those on the guest list at the home of Mrs. Duane Grantski. Mrs. Grantski will be hostess at an informal coffee on Wednesday evening for her guests.

Of particular interest to Eastridge suburbanites is news concerning the visit of Capt. and Mrs. Max A. Merritt. The Merritts, who are former residents of Eastridge, left for their new home in Norfolk, Va., on Sunday, after a four-day visit with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Fisher and other friends in the area. Capt. and Mrs. Merritt recently returned from a tour in Japan.

Other guests in the neighborhood last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Chase Neumann, and their children, Patricia and Peter of Oakland. The Neumanns were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Jones, Betty and Steve.

Mrs. David McEntire has been a busy hostess the past week. On Wednesday she entertained at dinner to honor Mr. McEntire on his birthday. Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Huelle.

Learned that Mrs. McEntire also prepared an evening dinner on Friday when the guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Art Mapstead and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Grantski. The group spent the evening viewing pictures which Mr. and Mrs. McEntire had taken while they were in Japan three years ago.

It seems that in this day and age two-year-olds aren't too young to spot a good catch! Anyway, when Newmy Kinsey celebrated his second birthday on Saturday evening, his attractive dinner partner was little Miss Julia Moulton. And, to make the evening complete, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moulton joined the youngsters and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey for the birthday dinner.

TO HEAD AUXILIARY

Mrs. Donald Purvis was elected president of the Lancaster County Medical Auxiliary Monday afternoon following the annual spring luncheon of the group at the University Club.

Standing is Mrs. John A. Brown, III, who was re-elected treasurer of the auxiliary, and seated are Mrs. Purvis (left) and Mrs. Jerome Ritter, vice president. Not pictured is Mrs. W. W. Bartels, secretary.

AFTERNOON SERVICE

MRS. JERRY GREENFIELD

Arrangements of spring blossoms appointed the chancel of Frieden's Lutheran Church for the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Velma Rae Salmen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Salmen of Lushton, and Jerry Greenfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Greenfield. The Rev. Herman Goede solemnized the 4 o'clock ceremony in the presence of only members of the families and a small group of close friends. The wedding music was played by Miss Helen Moessner, organist, who also accompanied Miss DeLoris Beltz, the vocal soloist.

Miss Jill Hrossnicklaus of Osceola, the maid of honor and only attendant, appeared in a waltz-length frock of lace and taffeta in the aqua tone, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

William Berns served Mr. Greenfield as best man, and the ushers were Maurice Salmen of Marquette, brother of the bride, and Edward Lechat.

For the ceremony the bride chose a gown of beige lace and chiffon. The lace bodice, designed with a rounded, shoulder-wide neckline and bracelet-length sleeves was sashed in at the waist with a chiffon cummerbund. The extremely bouffant skirt was waltz-length. A half-hat of clipped beige straw, with brow veil, completed her costume, and she carried pink and white carnations, showered with stephanotis, on a white prayer book.

Mr. Greenfield and his bride, following the reception in the church parlors, left for a brief honeymoon trip after which they will return to Lincoln to reside. For traveling Mrs. Greenfield wore a red print silk frock, with black accessories.

Mr. Greenfield is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Dave Beck Back In Capital For Secret Talk With Union Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dave Beck came quietly back to Washington Monday and went into a secret meeting of the Teamsters Union's executive board.

There was no immediate word on what the board was considering, but it was reported president Beck and other leaders of the union were debating possible withdrawal from the AFL-CIO.

The federation's executive council suspended Beck as an AFL-CIO vice president and council member Friday for his refusal, earlier last week, to tell Senate racketeers investigators about his alleged personal use of some $320,000 of teamsters funds.

Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment and said answering questions about his personal finances "might" tend to incriminate him, especially since the Internal Revenue Service was investigating his federal income tax returns.

Iowan's Body Is Found On Island

SIOUX CITY (AP)—The body of Bernard Rook, 20, of Sioux City, object of a lengthy search since he disappeared March 8, was found Monday on an island in the Missouri River near Brown's Lake about 12 miles south of here.

The discovery of Rook's overturned boat after he had been reported missing led to the belief that he had drowned but Coroner Thomas Coriden said that death was caused by exposure.

Authorities said Rook apparently had made his way to the island and had walked along the sand into the center of the wooded area where he died during the night.

Search Goes On For Missing LAFB Major

Maj. Nicholas M. Lynch, 37, of the 344th Bomb Squadron at the Lincoln Air Force Base, missing since Wednesday, has not been heard from or located according to law enforcement officials and the LAFB.

Maj. Lynch, was last seen in his Air Force uniform. He drives a two-tone, green 1956 Cadillac. The major and his family live at Goehner, Neb.

Flown In
Officials at the union's five-million-dollar headquarters here refused to say whether the executive board was meeting, but other sources confirmed that it was. Beck's office said he was in town all right, having flown in from Seattle.

It was considered likely, too, the board may take up Beck's announced plans for a million dollar publicity program to tell "the union's side of the story."

Beck had said the million dollars already had been approved by board members in an informal telephone poll, but the union's general secretary-treasurer, John English, a board member, said he'd never been polled and would refuse to turn loose any money for publicity for Beck.

The executive board meeting broke up later and members said any announcement would have to come from Beck. Beck could not be reached and his office said "there's no statement at this time." Members said the session was an all-day, one-day affair and would not continue Tuesday.

He was a World War II veteran and a member of the Friend Bible Church and Friend Masonic Lodge.

Jordan King Hussein May Lose Throne

CAIRO (INS)—Arab sources reported Monday night that Jordan's young King Hussein may lose his throne in a crisis that already has caused the government to submit its resignation.

Amman dispatches said the 21-year-old ruler, who has occupied the throne for less than five years, was seeking a showdown with Jordan's Premier Suleiman Nabulsi on his provisional decision to quit.

The crisis was said to center on Hussein's refusal to turn his back on American aid, join Arab neighbors in rejecting the Eisenhower doctrine to assist countries threatened by Red aggression, and orient Jordan's policy toward Moscow.

Reliable Arab informants said: "The situation in Jordan is so serious, Hussein's downfall may be imminent."

No Mercy

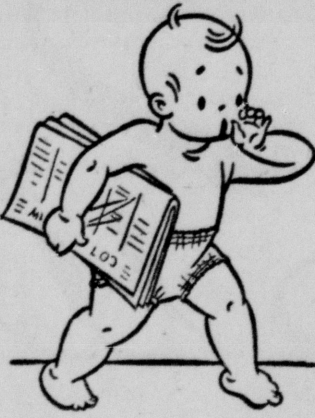

BUDAPEST (INS)—Gyola Obersovszky, editor of an anti-government newspaper, told a Budapest court "I want to be a free man but I do not want mercy or compromise."

Obersovszky is among 11 defendants being tried for participation in last fall's anti-Communist revolt. A verdict in the six-weeks-old trial is expected soon.

Ilona Toth, 25-year-old woman medical student, told the court, "I was misled by rumors and confused. I did not understand why the Soviets sent in troops and why (Premier Janos) Kadar should ask their help."

She admitted killing a suspected security policeman.

How alert young men are starting retirement plans - for less than $20 a month!

New York Life's Whole Life policy lets a man build a lifetime income for his retirement years at a cost he can afford today!

Today's young men, aware of the great strides being made in medical science, know they can look forward to enjoying a longer life than their forebears did. But they know, too, that really enjoying those extra years will depend in large measure on the kind of financial security they are able to set up beforehand.

That's why so many far-sighted men are starting retirement plans early in life through New York Life's Whole Life policy. Even a slim budget is no barrier, because premiums are low. Yet the cash values it builds during your working years can, at retirement, pay you a monthly income for the rest of your life! That means cash to supplement Social Security, pension plans, savings and the like. It means cash for travel, hobbies or necessities. And during the years before retirement, the policy's cash values offer you a constant source of funds for emergencies.

Even more important, Whole Life protects your family if you should die before you retire. Yet, with all these benefits, the cost is small because Whole Life's $10,000 minimum face amount permits savings which are passed along to you in low premiums. For example, issued at age 30, the annual premium for $10,000 of Whole Life is only $202.40, which means setting aside only about $16.87 a month! And dividends can be used either to reduce premium payments still further or to increase cash values or income at retirement.

Ask your New York Life agent about this insurance that can make a retirement program practical for you—right now! And mail the coupon for New York Life's free booklet, "How Much Life Insurance Is Enough?"

19 Candidates End Campaign In Texas

... GOP Win Would Reorganize Senate

DALLAS (U) — Nineteen candidates, 17 of them Democrats, climaxed their campaigns for the United States Senate Monday night with Republicans hoping their concentration of votes means a GOP victory.

If then can win Tuesday's special Texas election, Republicans can take over Senate committee chairmanships from the Democrats.

Ad Accolade Given Norma Carpenter

The advertising Club of Lincoln Monday named Norma Carpenter "Advertising Woman of the Year."

Club president A. B. Gorman presented the award at a luncheon.

Miss Carpenter, who is promotion director for Miller and Paine, recently was appointed by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson to the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Armed Services.

She also is chairman of the Civic Singfest Committee, vice president of the local USO Committee, chairman of hospitality for the Lincoln Co-ordinating Council and a member of the Lincoln Youth Council board of directors.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Archie J. Baley, speaker at the luncheon meeting, said Miss Carpenter "is tops, and she deserves the kind of honor which can't be topped."

Mayor Bennett Martin congratulated the club on making the award, which he said "serves both to focus attention upon good deeds and to inspire others to emulate the example."

Burnham Yates, Chamber of Commerce president, said "Lincoln is fortunate to have such a good citizen" as Miss Carpenter.

4 Children Die In Fire

FARMVILLE, Va. (U) — Four of 10 Negro children in one family perished in a flash fire which destroyed their one-story frame house in adjoining rural Prince Edward County Monday.

The mother, Mrs. Lucille Lee, had left the four alone while she went to attend to a cow in a nearby lot. When she returned in about 10 minutes the home was enveloped in flames. She said smoke prevented her from entering.

Firemen found the bodies near the back door of the home six miles south of Worsham. Six older children were at school and the father, Jack Lee, was at his job here.

The children were identified as Aubrey 5, Norman 4, and Betsy and Charles, twins, aged nine months.

Airport Zoning Boards Limited To Private Counsel

A city-county airport zoning board must retain private counsel, because it is not entitled to official legal counsel from either the city or the county attorney, according to an attorney general's opinion.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard H. Williams prepared the opinion in answer to a question from Dodge County Attorney William Line.

torney, is the Republican hope. Herbert J. Antoine Sr., a real estate dealer, entered without Republican party blessing and has not campaigned vigorously.

The Texas Election Bureau, unofficial vote tabulating agency, estimates that 14 per cent of the electorate is normally Republican. Eisenhower carried this normally Democratic state in his two campaigns, but he did it with a coalition of GOP and conservative Democratic votes.

In Tuesday's election at least two major candidates bear the conservative label and appear certain to get much of the conservative Demo vote that went to Eisenhower.

Rep. Dies

These two are Rep. Martin Dies, congressman at large who is best known nationally as head of the Dies un-American Activities Committee before World War II, and state Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston.

There are others with various conservative planks along with some liberal leanings. One is James P. Hart, former state supreme court justice and ex-chancellor of the University of Texas. Another is John C. White, state agriculture commissioner.

Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney and former district judge, wore the label of both liberal and party loyalist in his three campaigns for governor, none of which he won. Last fall, he came within 3,000 votes of Price Daniel, then senator, in the second Democratic primary.

It was Daniel's election as governor which created the Senate vacancy.

If Hutcheson is elected, the Senate will be divided 48-48 between Republicans and Democrats. Republicans could move for reorganization of the Senate, and with Vice President Nixon casting a tie breaking vote in favor of the Republicans, they would take over committee chairmanships.

Appointed

William Blakely, a Democrat, now is junior senator from Texas. He was appointed by Allan Shivers shortly before Shivers' term as governor ended to serve until the special election could be held. He is not a candidate Tuesday.

On political beliefs of national significance, all candidates stand generally for the same things—reduction in foreign aid, no federal aid to education if such aid means federal control of schools, reduced budget, less taxes and states' rights.

The Texas Election Bureau estimates that between 700,000 and 800,000 will vote, compared with 1,827,922 in last fall's general election.

Scattered thundershowers were predicted, and the bureau said rain could reduce the vote by 200,000.

Ike Resignation Reports Called 'Utter Nonsense'

WASHINGTON (U) — James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said anew Monday that published reports President Eisenhower may resign before the end of his term are "complete and utter nonsense."

Hagerty characterized the reports that way when told at a news conference that Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution had written that Eisenhower is preparing to step down and turn the White House over to Vice President Nixon when world conditions permit.

Hagerty used the same "complete and utter nonsense" comment last week on a similar statement by Louis Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press.

Demo Johnson Asks 'Cost Consciousness Campaign' On Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that the federal payroll hit a new peak in January prompted Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) to urge Monday that the administration launch a "cost consciousness campaign." He suggested it would help cut President Eisenhower's 72-billion-dollar budget.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said Congress could slash its own appropriations "but the more important step is for the federal government to cut down on its own spending."

He told reporters that a report by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) "points the way to the real problem on economy."

Byrd, who heads the Senate House committee on reduction of non-essential expenditures, said the non-military federal payroll was one billion dollars in January, the highest monthly total yet.

Abroad

He said regular civilian workers for the government drew $989,549,000 and foreign nationals employed by U.S. agencies abroad were paid $16,700,000 during the month.

This peak was reached, Byrd said, despite a decrease in federal employment during January.

Johnson, in urging economy in the government itself rather than leaving it up to Congress, said it is difficult for Congress to determine which of the many federal employees are essential.

"There should be a constant check by the federal agencies themselves to make this determination," Johnson said, adding: "The administration should promptly launch a cost consciousness campaign. Every agency head should be held to strict accountability for his monthly spending and the word 'economy' should be kept constantly before him."

Gets Report

With cries for budget cutting coming from many quarters, Eisenhower received a report on his administration's efforts to shrink the $4,400,000,000 planned for foreign aid for the next fiscal year starting July 1.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told reporters that officials charged with responsibility for the program have arrived at "a meeting of the minds." But Hagerty added that "does not necessarily mean" they have agreed on a reduction in any specific amount.

The report was presented to Eisenhower by Under Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and budget director Percival Brundage following weekend conferences with other administration officials.

Hagerty declined to speculate on how much the administration's mutual security funds might be cut. He recalled that Eisenhower at his news conference last week indicated a cut is possible but gave no hint of how much of a saving he had in mind.

Hagerty said Eisenhower might make a statement "on the whole question" before he sends Congress a special message on foreign aid plans, probably about the end of this month.

While the House has been actively cutting appropriations bills many senators have been sounding off on the economy issue.

Augusta Fires President's Bag-Toter Cemetery Perteeet

Ike Too Fast For Willie

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The world's most famous golf caddy—Willie (Cemetery) Perteeet—is the saddest man in Augusta Monday. He's been fired as Ike's caddy.

"I don't know what I done wrong," the frail, 51-year-old Negro bag-toter said. "I guess Mr. Dudley thought I was just too slow."

Ed Dudley, professional of the Augusta National Golf Club and President Eisenhower's golfing partner, said Cemetery had to be replaced because he was "getting a little too decrepit."

"The president plays like a whirlwind," Dudley said. "He hits the ball and—boom—he's gone. It takes a young man to keep up with him. So I had to make a change."

The president's new caddy at Augusta is Slim Jenkins, a slender, mustachioed veteran in his mid-thirties, who has caddied for Dudley, Bob Jones and others and who now serves as assistant caddy master here.

But Jenkins, and not Cemetery, will be carrying Ike's bags.

Cemetery, whose name was given him by the President, has been Ike's favorite caddy since he began playing golf at Augusta.

And Ike has been Cemetery's favorite golfer.

"He get the red neck sometimes and gets his dander up when he miss a shot, but I shore love to caddy for that man," Cemetery said.

"He don't get as het up as before he had his heart attack but he still get himself worked into a lather over that golf game. He's hittin' that ball farther than he ever hit it—235 yards sometimes—but he can't get a putt to fall for love or mercy. And that 10-iron of his—his bettin' iron—well, that's been misbehavin' too."

Cemetery said he didn't think he himself had slowed up any but added he didn't plan to make any personal intervention with the President. "Mr. Dudley know what he's doing," Cemetery said. "But if he thinks I slowed up he should see me kicking up my heels at the night club early this morning."

Perteeet, a graying wisp of a man who has been caddying since childhood, said he got the nickname "dead man" after he was chopped up in a knife fight and laid out on a morgue's slab apparently for dead.

"The President, he told me, all dead men belong in cemeteries," Perteeet said, "and he said from now on he'd call me Cemetery."

"And he did."

Pirates, A's Battle To 18 Inning 0-0 Tie

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics and the Pittsburgh Pirates engaged in the longest scoreless duel of the exhibition baseball season Monday—18 innings—all for naught.

The game was called by agreement at the end of the 18th with the score still 0-0.

The longest previous scoreless effort this spring was 12 innings by the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees March 12. The Sox won 1-0 in the 13th.

Starter Ron Kline and Bob Purkey each went eight innings for the Pirates, giving up four and five hits, respectively, of the 11 collected by the A's.

Redheads Set Pace In Track

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

This could be a great year for redheads in Nebraska high school track.

Two lads with red hair are leading the pack in the early going in two events—the shot put and the 100-yard dash.

Larry Fisher, 240-pound carrot-top from Beatrice, is the leading shot putter with a 59-foot toss. That's farther than any Nebraska high schooler in history has ever thrown the 12-pound ball.

Pat Avery, wiry redhead from Ravenna, is the premier sprinter with a :10.2 100-yard dash clocking. That :10.2 was recorded last week on a chilly, damp day in a triangular meet at Grand Island.

Miserable weather has slowed track performers but in three events field event artists have gotten away to good starts.

Fisher's 59-foot put of the shot is one of the three. Lonnie Surratt of Morrill has a 150-6 throw of the discus to his credit.

Last week Scottbluff's Jim Kraft, 1956 gold medal winner, pole vaulted 12-3 1/2.

Kraft's performance came in the Scottbluff Relays, a meet which put some good marks on the books. However, all the track times came in relay events and hence aren't considered.

For instance, junior Jay Knaub clicked off a :22.220 on the last leg of Scottbluff's 1:33.7 880-yard relay. Joe American Horse of Gordon, the 1956 gold medal miler, ran a 4:37 mile in the medley relay; his brother Emmett had a 2:08 half-mile on a relay.

Joe's clocking wasn't the best, however. It ranks second to a 4:34.4 by Tom Ash of Omaha North. Emmett's half would be the best, however; but Jim Morgan of Wauneta has the best reported, 2:10.2.

The event leaders:

100-yard dash—10.2 by Pat Aver, Ravens.

220-yard dash—23.8 by Oscar Chapman, Trenton.

440-yard dash—53.6 by Keith Saunders, Columbus.

880-yard run—21.02 by James Morgan, Wauneta.

1 mile run—34.44 by Tom Ash, Omaha North.

120-yard high hurdles—16.1 by Pete Peretz, Trenton.

60-yard high hurdles—97.7 by George Borowski, Grand Island Catholic.

160-yard low hurdles—22.7 by Everett Miller, Sidney.

100-yard low hurdles—12 by Doug Fortik, Kearney.

1 mile relay—3:40 by McCook.

880-yard relay—1:33.7 by Scottbluff.

WILLIAMS BOILS OVER

Blasts Marines, Says Taft Phony

By JOE REICHLER
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Baseball star Ted Williams affirmed Monday that he told a New Orleans editor the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) was a "phony" and that he had "no use for the Marine Corps" as the result of his recall to service in 1953.

But he denied that he criticized former President Truman or said anything derogatory about the government.

"What I said about the Marines and Taft goes," Williams told The Associated Press in commenting on a story written by Crozet Duplantier, executive sports editor of the New Orleans States. "And I should add that I had a few words about phony politicians, although I didn't intend to single anyone out in particular."

"But charges against Truman and the government, that's a damn lie," he added. "If I did say it, I don't remember it. But if I'd say it, I'd remember. I remember everything else."

Asked about Duplantier's description of Williams' having spat at the name of Taft, the Boston Red Sox slugger said:

"I was spitting all over the place, not necessarily at Taft."

Duplantier, also a former Marine, was introduced to Williams at the airport by Hy Hurwitz, a sports writer for the Boston Globe accompanying the Red Sox training and a Marine buddy of his. The New Orleans editor said Monday he would stand behind everything he wrote. Hurwitz said, however, "this fellow distorted parts of the story."

Duplantier, who interviewed Williams last night at the New Orleans airport as the Red Sox were leaving after an exhibition game, said in his story that Williams spat at Taft's name because the late senator did not help him get out of Marine service as a flyer during the Korean War.

Williams, who was 33 when he was recalled for his second tour of duty, said at the Red Sox training camp Monday:

"I always thought Taft was a good guy because of the stand he took on labor. But let me tell you about him. I found out he was a phony, too."

"I have a very good friend high up in the government and, without my knowing it, he went to Taft to try to stop my recall by the Marines. He asked Taft why the Marines wanted a guy like me?"

"He said Taft told him: 'I can't do a thing. I know he (Williams) has a proper grievance but I can't do a thing for him. Anybody else I could help but I can't touch him...he's too big.'"

Williams said he "had no use" for the Marines because of the way he said they got reserves back into action during the Korean War.

"I'll tell you about the Marines," he said. "They got the government to appropriate a lot of money. They said they had all the pilots they needed but needed planes for them. Actually they had no pilots, so when they got the money, they had to recruit 1,100 guys, including guys like me."

"Most of us hadn't flown a plane for 11 years," Williams continued, "but they wanted to make a good show. That's why they got a big name like myself."

"I got a raw deal from the Marines and I've said before I've got no use for them."

"What makes me mad about the government is those phony politicians," Williams added.

Ryff Loser When Left Eye Gashed

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Frankie Ryff, classy New York lightweight, drubbed Gene Butler of Boston for six rounds and then was beaten on a technical knockout in the seventh when the scheduled 10-rounder was halted at 1:45 because of an inch long cut Ryff received on his left eye.

Referee Sharkey Buonanno's action in stopping the fight and awarding it to Butler brought prolonged and bitter protests from Ryff and his handlers.

Ryff, who claimed he received the cut from a butt, stormed about the ring with his arms upraised and then his manager, Charley Black, rushed through the ropes and protested to the referee and two members of the boxing commission at the ringside. Trainer Dan Florio, who worked in Ryff's corner, also blasted the referee for stopping it.

Texan Rescues Schaeckel

Lincoln Star Special
FORT WORTH, Tex. — The Pepsi-Cola team of Lincoln took first place in Monday night's 32-team Booster squad at the American Bowling Congress tournament with the help of a Houston, Tex., substitute.

Ernie Schaeckel, the fourth man on the Pepsi-Cola line-up, began limping noticeably after only a couple of frames of the first game. He finally admitted to ABC officials that he had injured a metatarsal bone and should have had his foot set in a cast two weeks ago.

He was finally forced to retire from action at the fourth frame. The Pepsi-Cola squad, frantic for a replacement since only five men made the trip, uncovered a helping hand in the audience.

Howard Northy, the sixth man of the Shuddle Bros. K of C classic team from Houston, was sitting in the audience watching his team perform when he noticed that Schaeckel was in trouble. He volunteered to finish the set for Schaeckel and did a creditable job. He finished out Schaeckel's opening game for 154 and came back with 161 and 172 on his own.

The Pepsi finished with 2,676 for the three games involved. Glen Mills spearheaded the attack with 180, 224-216-620.

Although the Pepsi Cola squad won a $100 squad prize for finishing first on Monday night's Booster Division, they did not manage to make the major standings of the event. The Pepsi-Cola scores:

Glen Mills 180 224 216—620
Max Lavine 197 190 198—585
James Arizzo 203 173 152—528
Ernie Schaeckel 154 154 154—462
Charles Halcloiff 171 157 162—490
Howard Northy 905 910 861—2676

Ogden To Retire
DENVER (INS) — Cliff Ogden, dean of the midwestern basketball referees, blew his last whistle in the National AAU tourney at Denver last week after 27 years' officiating.

Ogden began his striped-shirt career in Wichita, Kan., and since that time has worked 12 AAU tourneys and officiated in the championship game of the NCAA tourney nine of the past 11 years.

The 49-year-old Ogden, who will celebrate his next birthday in October, says, "you can't keep up with these kids at that age."

Frenchman Wins Bantam Crown

... Debris, Scars D'Agata

PARIS (AP)—Undeclared Alphonse Halimi of France Monday night wrestled the world bantamweight championship from Italy's Mario D'Agata, 30-year-old deaf-mute, on a 15-round decision in a fire-interrupted title fight. A capacity crowd of 17,000 saw France's first world title fight in 20 years.

An electrical fire, caused by a short circuit, in the lights above the ring, scattered burning metal, wire and rubber over the canvas with 15 seconds left in the third round. Some of the debris scarred D'Agata's back. Referee Philippe de Becker of Belgium halted the fight until the damage was repaired about 15 minutes later. He then ordered the bout resumed with the start of the fourth round.

The fans went wild when the decision was announced by the referee, the sole official.

The Associated Press card had the 25-year old Frenchman far in front, 11 rounds to two with two even.

D'Agata, unbeaten in his last 20 fights, was making the first defense of the title he won by a sixth-round knockout of France's Robert Cohen on June 29, 1956. The Italian was recognized as world champion by commissions all over the world except for the American National Boxing Ass., which recognizes Mexico's Raul (Raton) Macias as champion.

Before the bout, both D'Agata and Halimi promised that the winner would mee' Macias within 90 days to clear up the muddle.

D'Agata weighed 117 1/2, Halimi 116 1/4.

It was the 19th straight victory for Halimi who didn't turn pro until Sept. 26, 1955. He had fought 189 bouts as an amateur. He has won all of his pro fights.

Halimi said after the fight that "D'Agata didn't hurt me but he is a very tough fighter."

It was the first time the Frenchman had had to go to the world championship 15-round limit.

Despite Holdrege first places in most of the individual running events, Kearney scored first in all but the high jump in the field events and had enough depth in the races to romp.

Brian Paulson of Holdrege slammed the hurdles and teammate John Viergeg added victories in the 100 and 440-yard dashes to become the only double winners on the track.

ROSEN PULLS APRIL FOOL'S GAG ON TRIBE

CLEVELAND (INS) — Retired third baseman Al Rosen pulled an April Fool's gag on Cleveland Baseball fans Monday, strongly indicating he would return to the Indians, then announcing for the "umpteenth" time that he would not.

Flyers Open Against NWU Baseball Team

The Lincoln Air Force Base Flyers baseball team will open their 1957 season on April 4 against Nebraska Wesleyan College at the Wesleyan diamond.

The Flyers finished last season with an overall record of 33 wins and 12 losses while winning the Great Plains Northern District title. They were eliminated in the semi-finals at the Great Plains Finals at Lowry AFB.

Many of last years players are back this season and there are some very impressive newcomers, said Lieutenant Herman Willoughby, Flyer Manager.

There are still a few open dates on the schedule. Any local team interested in playing the Flyers can schedule a game by contacting the Base Athletic Section, Phone 7-6011, Ext. 8009.

DiBiase After Revenge In Mat Feature

Mike DiBiase, a former Cornhusker football star who won the National AAU heavyweight wrestling title before slipping into Husker grid and mat tops, gets a chance for revenge at the 4-H Club Building Tuesday night.

The Omaha Italian, just off a successful Southwest tour, takes on The Mighty Atlas in the main event of Matchmaker Tom Novak's show.

It was just two years ago, when Mike was still a rookie in the pro mat trade, that the Jewish strong man gave him a larruping in Omaha.

Mike has had a couple of hundred bouts since then; feels he's prime to "get even." He'll have his chance at the 60-minute, two out of three falls route.

Matchmaker Novak is introducing newcomers in the supporting bouts.

A fresh face to local fans belongs to Tor Hagen, the '230-pounder from Norway. Trucent Tor will take on Rip Hawk of Toledo, O., in the semi-windup.

The other newcomer is Sailor Morgan of San Diego, Calif., who draws the opening bout assignment against the rough-and-ready Black Jack Dillon of Atlanta, Ga.

Trotters Defeat Collegians, 72-51

CHICAGO (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters defeated the College All-Stars with ease Monday night 72-51 before a Chicago Stadium crowd of 16,024 for their second straight exhibition basketball victory of the current tour.

The Trotters jumped to a 13-2 lead and never let up on the Collegians until they had moved to a 20-point advantage in the second half.

With the game in the bag, the court jesters turned on some of their fabled razzle-dazzle which had little or no effect on the unassuming Collegians but brought roars of approval from the crowd.

Willie Gardner led the Trotters with 15 points and Dick Duckett of St. John's of Brooklyn topped the Stars with 13.

Hollywood Gets Three Ex-Chiefs

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., (AP)—The Hollywood Stars announced Monday they are receiving three pitchers from the parent Pittsburgh Pirates.

Two were on the Hollywood roster but were training with the Pirates. They are righthander Bennie Daniels, 24, who had a 15-3 record with Lincoln, Neb., last year, and lefthander Fred Waters, 29, who had a 4-3 record with Hollywood last year before going to Pittsburgh.

Coming to Hollywood on option is righthander George Witt, who had an 8-8 record at New Orleans last year.

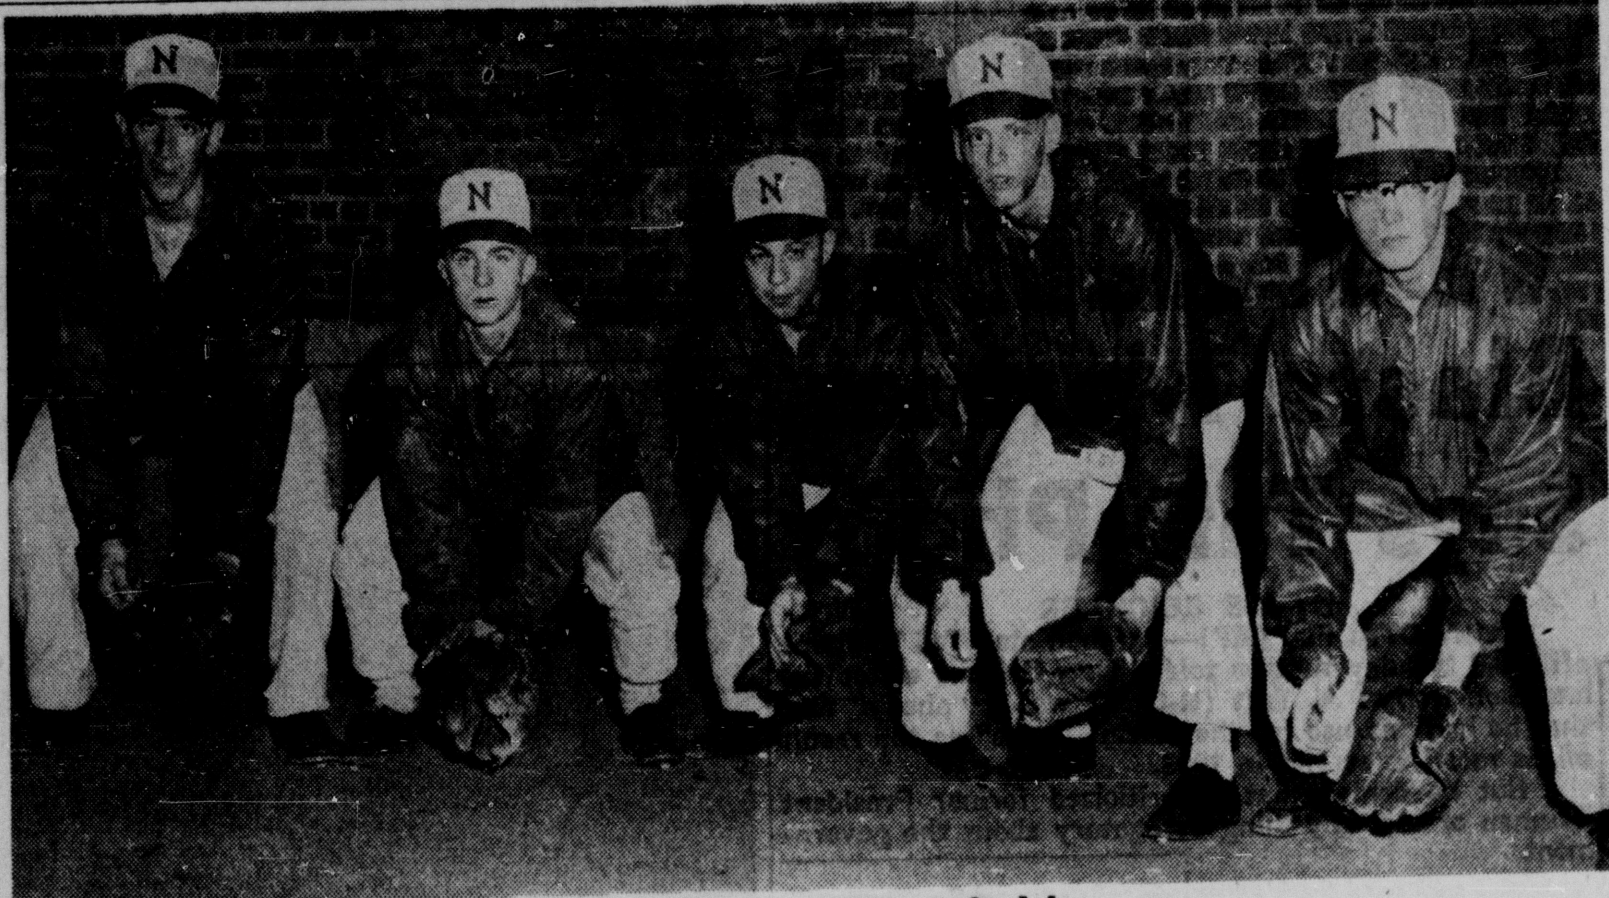

All three are former hurlers for Lincoln.

Cornhuskers' 1957 Infielders

Husker Infield Problem—Replacing Brown, Coufal

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles on the University of Nebraska baseball team. Today's article deals with Coach Tony Sharpe's infield.

How do you replace a .450 and a .340 hitter?

You don't, says Tony Sharpe, Nebraska baseball coach. But you try, and that's the what the Nebraska Cornhuskers will be doing this spring.

Trying to replace Don Brown and Norm Coufal, two frequently hitting infielders who wound up their eligibility last year.

Brown, who whacked the ball at a .450 clip, has since signed with the Kansas City Athletics and played a year in the Nebraska State League.

Coufal, a .380 hitter in 1955 who "skidded" to .340 last year, is in the service.

"Those two will be mighty hard to replace...impossible even," Sharpe says. "A team just doesn't lose a couple of guys like that and not suffer."

For this reason, Tony feels the 1957 infield "won't hit as good as last year's club" and tabs the plate prospects as only "fair."

Defensively, the Husker coach feels, Nebraska will be "all right," with shortstop being the position he's most concerned with.

At the moment, Gil Dunne, a sophomore who prepped at Omaha South and who may do some pitching or gardening, seems to have the inside track on the shortstop job.

"I think Gil would start there for us if we played tomorrow," Tony says. "But that's something we'll have to work out. We've got several infield possibilities and I'll probably do quite a bit of shifting before we're set."

Those "possibilities" include Jimmy Kubacki, the little basketball whiz from Toledo, Ohio, who can work at either short or second and Paul Robinson, Ogallala junior, who's slated for a shot at either second or third.

Al Karle, junior letterman from Grand Island, apparently has nailed down the No. 1 job at second, while John Beideck, senior letterman from Lincoln, is back at first.

At third, Sharpe will probably install Frank Nappi, a junior from Portland, Me., who past-times with the Husker grid squads in the fall.

Beideck may be hard-pressed to keep his first-base job because of his weak hitting. He is a slick fielder, but last year he barely cleared the .100 mark.

Gene Torczon of Humphrey, who can also pitch and is "one of the better hitters on the club," may handle first if Beideck's bat is minus hits again.

Another first-base candidate is Al Newbill, a sophomore from Lincoln.

Sharpe is high on Robinson, a transfer from Doane College, listing him as a "definite contender" for an infield job and a "pretty doggone good ball player."

If he doesn't crack the Karle-Dunne-Nappi combine as a starter, he'll provide the Huskers with valuable bench strength.

Of this group of aspirants, Tony says Nappi and Dunne "look like the best prospects to fill the gaps left by Brown and Coufal."

But he adds quickly, and with good reason, "Like I said, though, you just don't replace guys like that."

Personnel roundup:

Infielders

Al Karle...Grand Island junior...letterman...bats right...set to handle second base.

John Beideck...Lincoln senior...getting first shot at first base, but weak hitting may cost him the job...fine glove man.

Jim Kubacki...Toledo, Ohio junior...1956 squadman...bats right...batting for job at short or third...may move in at either...two-year letterman with basketball team.

Frank Nappi...Portland, Me., junior...bats right...will open at third...good hitter...can double in outfield...won letter with football team last fall.

Gil Dunne...Omaha sophomore...bats right...in line for short stop, will probably pitch some and is available for outfield duty.

Paul Robinson...Ogallala sophomore...bats right...in strong contention for job at second or third.

Gene Torczon...Humphrey junior...1956 squadman...bats right...one of the best hitters on the club...may get first base job...slated for starting mound chores...also counted on for outfield bench strength.

Al Newbill...Lincoln sophomore...bats left...ex-Lincoln High athlete...graduate of Optimists and Elks...making bid for first-base job.

Jerry McKay...Lincoln sophomore...ex-Lincoln Teachers athlete...fair hitter...bidding for shortstop post.

German Upsets Ranking Heavyweight Bob Baker

NEW YORK (AP)—Germany's Willie Besmanoff racked up his 37th straight victory and shot into the heavyweight top flight Monday night by upsetting big Bob Baker of Pittsburgh in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Besmanoff won the unanimous decision.

Besmanoff, 24, outweighed 214½ to 194½, received the verdict from the three officials by identical scores of 5-4-1 in rounds. The AP card had Besmanoff in front, 6-4. Baker was a 12-5 favorite.

The officials were Referee Al Berl and Judges Bert Grant and Nat Cooper.

It was Besmanoff's second victory in as many starts in the United States and his most important. Baker, once the leading heavyweight contender now ranked fifth by the NBA and ninth by Ring Magazine, Willie who stands 5-10½ to Baker's 6-1 is not in the heavyweight top tier.

He was the sixth ranking light heavyweight contender in Germany. He came here to make his debut as a heavyweight and defeated Calvin Wilson in the same St. Nick's Feb. 25.

Monday night the fast punching invader, who plans to make his home in New York, got off to a whirlwind start which earned him the edge in the spirited scrap. He swept four of the first five rounds on the cards of Berl and Cooper and three of the first five from Grant.

OMAHA (AP)—Don Leahy, Creighton Prep football coach, Monday night said he had "no comment" on a report that he would leave the Omaha school to join the staff of Pete Elliott at the University of California. Egypt Agrees On No Gaza Infiltration

... Dag Says Help Of UNEF OK'd

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Dag Hammarskjöld said Monday Egypt has agreed to prevent infiltration from the Gaza Strip into Israel and has accepted the help of the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF) to seal the demarcation line.

The U. N. secretary general said he had sent Cairo a message saying the U. N. 7-nation Advisory Committee on UNEF hoped arrangements made with Egypt would deter incursions into Israel.

Hammarskjöld said Egypt sent this reply:

"1. Egypt is making known effectively to the refugees and other inhabitants of the strip that it is Egyptian policy to prevent infiltration across the demarcation line, and this will be re-emphasized from time to time as necessary."

"2. The Egyptian regulations against infiltration, which include penalties, are being again put into force. The role of UNEF in assisting in the prevention of infiltration will be made clearly known to the population of the Gaza Strip by appropriate authorities."

Cairo Trip

There was no word here as to whether this agreement was worked out on Hammarskjöld's recent trip to Cairo.

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, after meeting almost two hours with Hammarskjöld, said the secretary general had asked Egypt whether it still considered itself in a state of war with Israel.

"A reply to that question is awaited," Eban told reporters. He emphasized Israel considers that question primary, and discussion of other arrangements cannot proceed without an answer.

Egypt bars Israel's ships from the Suez Canal on the grounds that the two nations still are at war.

Under the 1888 convention for freedom of navigation in the canal Egypt could legally bar an enemy from the waterway.

No Hint

Hammarskjöld's statement gave no hint as to how long the U. N. emergency force will be permitted to remain on demarcation line duty in the Gaza Strip.

He is attempting to obtain Israeli agreement for units of the force to be stationed on the Israeli side of the border. So far Israel has refused.

The possibility arose that the U. N. General Assembly might be called back later this month to consider raising money to pay for clearing the Suez Canal.

Hammarskjöld arranged for loans from several countries to pay for the work so far. These loans, plus the total cost, must be taken up by the Assembly.

Clearance Work

In Cairo, U. S. banker John J. McCloy completed U. N. talks with President Nasser and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi on paying for the clearance work.

A U. N. Information Center statement said they discussed increasing the usefulness of the canal to meet rising world shipping demands.

The statement made no mention of unconfirmed reports that Egypt wants a 10 million dollar loan from the U. N. or some other international agency to buy equipment lost in the British-French invasion last fall.

Farm Assessment Study Is Initiated

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — A study of assessments on all Dodge County farm land is being initiated by the county board of supervisors.

The purpose: To bring agricultural property nearer to market value, which is the basis for all real estate assessments in the county.

Board Chairman Claud Hoppel said indications were that most Dodge County farm land assessments are too high and should be readjusted downward.

Jolo Isle Spy Ring

MANILA (AP) — Lt. Col. Leopoldo Nievera, constabulary commander of the province, claims Chinese Communists are operating a spy ring on Jolo Island in the southern Philippines. He describes the southern islands reaching almost to British North Borneo as a fertile field for the Reds and a backdoor to the Philippines through which the Communists can dump "undesirable human cargo."

Copple Sets Appeal After Jail Sentence

A Lincoln stock car driver who was critically injured March 5 when his car missed a turn at 70th and South, sheared off a telephone pole and slammed into a house has been fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in jail as a result of the incident.

Marvin E. Copple, 28, of 2225 Stockwell, appeared in Municipal Court in person and pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving. The fine and jail sentence were handed down by Judge John Jacobson. Copple appealed the judgment and furnished $250 bond.

Police Cruiser Officer Virgil Campbell reported he was first attracted to Copple's car near 21st and D when it appeared to be travelling at an excessive rate of speed. Campbell gave chase and estimated Copple's speed at 90 mph when his car slammed into the house at 70th and South. Copple suffered severe internal and back injuries and several fractured ribs. He was alone in the car.

Copple has competed in stock car races throughout the U. S. and set two national racing records in 1952. He is a vice president of the Commonwealth Co., 126 No. 11th.

Municipalities Wholesale Gas Bill Advances

The Legislature's Public Works Committee Monday approved a bill requiring utilities to furnish wholesale service to a city after the city has taken over the utility's local retail distribution system by condemnation.

The measure, LB 150, grew out of a current dispute between the city of Bayard, Neb., and the North Central Gas Co.

Bayard has moved to acquire North Central's distribution system and seeks to force North Central to continue furnishing gas to the city, but as a wholesaler instead of as a retailer. Litigation growing out of the case now is pending in the State Supreme Court.

LB 150, introduced by Sen. Marvin Bedford of Geneva, was given a public hearing last week. Advancement to the legislative floor came on a 6-0 vote.

Ray Hall, Albion Landholder, Dies

ALBION, Neb. (AP) — Ray Hall, 53, extensive Boone County land holder, died late Monday at a ranch owned by Duke Moore, six miles west of Petersburg. A heart attack was blamed.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1925, Hall was a member of a pioneer Boone County family. He was a former Albion banker, was a member of the Boone County Hospital board and active in Masonic work.

Survivors include his widow and a daughter, Judy.

ACCESS ROADSIDE DEVELOPMENT FREEZE HIT AT HEARING

Proposals to freeze roadside development along access roads leading to the four-lane Interstate Highway across Nebraska, or give the state easements on such property, drew concerted opposition Monday.

Given a re-hearing by the Legislature's Public Works Committee was LB 562, introduced originally by Sens. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, Charles F. Tvedik of Omaha and Donald F. McGinley of Ogalala. A re-hearing was ordered after a snowstorm cut attendance at a scheduled hearing a week ago. Amendments offered by Sen. Bixler would have the effect of placing a two-year freeze on the access roads within one mile of the Interstate. An alternative proposal would give the state an easement on such roadside properties.

Interstate Protected
Federal law bans roadside enterprises along the Interstate Highway itself. Motorists needing service are expected to turn off onto the limited access roads to do their business.

Opponents Monday challenged Bixler's proposals on several grounds. They charged that the proposal that the state pay no money for easements would be unconstitutional.

Omaha Attorney Fred White, representing a group of landowners and outdoor advertising interests, described the bill as "diabolical in its nature" and said it is "contrary to the American principles of free enterprise and individual initiative."

Sen. Bixler said the legislation is designed to prevent farmers and other property owners from being scalped by land speculators who might get advance word on where access roads will be located. He said it also would protect those who now have investments in service businesses.

"Congress has been a little lax in facing up to this problem," Bixler said.

Chauncey Barney of Lincoln, representing the Nebraska Motel Assn., also urged a two-year "breathing space" to allow time for interim studies. He insisted the two-year freeze will cause no hardship.

Many Opposed
Joining White in opposing the legislation were Elton Berck, Nebraska Farmers Union; Russell Lockwood, Nebraska Petroleum Industries Committee; Tom Mcroft, Waverly farmer; Harry Foulks, representing Omaha's Metropolitan Utilities District; George Spidel, Nebraska State Grange, and Richard Gooding, research director for the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, L. B. Maupin, representing the Nebraska Free Roads Assn., also testified.

Berck contended the legislation gives the state "pretty much of a dictatorship over property of our farm people."

"Why should the farmer have to ask State Highway Department permission to farm land on which he pays taxes?" Berck asked. 532 Nebraska stations will be affected, while opposing the Bixler proposals, acknowledged that the greatest damage was done to service stations and such petroleum dealers when the interstate project was approved in the first place. He said an estimated 532 Nebraska stations will be affected.

State Education Board Vote Bill Gets The Ax

The Legislature's Judiciary Committee Monday killed LB 444, the hotly contested measure that would have called for a vote on a constitutional amendment to abolish the state board of education.

The bill had been introduced by Sens. Hal Bridenbaugh, Tom Dooley and Leroy Bahensky and had required over three hours of testimony at its public airing earlier.

Heard but held Monday by the committee were LB's 589, 590 and 591, three committee-sponsored measures aimed at bringing Nebraska laws into line with recent Federal Supreme Court decisions regarding the publication of legal notices.

Other action by the committee included:

Advanced LB 419, providing for venue for criminal offenses where the crime takes place in two or more counties.

Advanced LB 361, a measure providing for two additional municipal judges for Omaha, after defeating an attempt to amend the bill to provide for only one additional judge.

Advanced LB 366, extending from 60 to 90 days the time for filing a subcontractor's lien.

Advanced LB 507, providing for liens on oil and gas leasehold interests and pipelines.

Killed LB 439, extending from four to six months the time for filing mechanics' materialmen's liens.

Special Issues Enliven Many Ballots

Wet Weather Likely To Cut Vote Turnout

Forecast of blizzard conditions Tuesday in western Nebraska and rain throughout the rest of the state could possibly keep many voters from casting ballots in the April municipal elections.

This is an off-year election for most of the towns throughout the state with only council and board of education races on most ballots.

However, special issues face the voters in a number of communities, including proposed new schools, liquor by the drink, new swimming pool, etc.

North Platte, Norfolk, Columbus, Fairbury and Grand Island are among the cities where there is a close race for mayor, along with council seat contests.

Lincoln will hold its city primary a week from Tuesday.

Towns faced with special issues include the following:

Fremont—$1,550,000 school bond issue, designed for a new high school.

Wahoo—$150,000 municipal building proposed.

Fairmont—$35,000 bond issue for a new municipal building.

Henderson—$95,000 school bond issue.

Humboldt—$150,000 water works improvement bond issue.

Crete—Liquor by the drink issue.

Davenport—$280,000 school bond proposed.

Utica—$170,000 school bond issue.

Atkinson—$33,000 swimming pool bond issue.

Diller—Sale by package of alcoholic beverages other than beer.

Goehner—Liquor by drink proposed.

Deshler—Whether or not town should take over ownership of gas system from Kansas-Nebraska Gas Company.

Fairbury—Proposal to hike levy .3 of a mill for a recreation fund to provide for a youth center.

Scribner—Liquor by drink issue.

Wymore—$80,000 community building bond issue.

Eustis—Package liquor sale proposed.

David City—Whether the city should acquire gas system now operated by Central Electric Company.

Martinsburg—Liquor by drink proposed.

Beatrice—Sewer use fee proposed.

Scottsbluff—Voters will be asked to decide whether the city should enter the off-street parking business using city-owned property.

Omaha—Voters will decide whether they want to alter the new city charter raising the salary of councilmen from $3,000 to $6,000.

Voters in Cortland, Hebron and Monroe will decide if the initiative and referendum provided for in the Nebraska statutes should become operative in their communities.

Nursing Homes In 'Good Condition'

NEBRASKA City, Neb. (AP)—Fire Chief Harry Bischof, after an inspection of Nebraska City's five nursing homes, reported them in pretty good condition as far as fire hazards are concerned.

The homes house 66 persons.

Bischof said co-operation of the home owners was very good and where hazards were found, the owners agreed to correct them at once.

Koch Ordained

Father Richard J. Koch of St. Charles the Martyr Episcopal Church of Fairbury, Neb., has been ordained to the priesthood. Other churches served by Father Koch are St. Dunstan's in Hebron and St. Luke's in Wymore. He and his wife and two children moved to Fairbury nine months ago. (Photo Special to The Star.)

Pair Bound Over In Alleged Short Weight Grain Case

DAVID CITY, Neb. (AP)—Wayne Sisco, 43, South Sioux City, Neb., and Joe Keller, 48, Sioux City, were bound over to District Court Monday on four charges growing out of alleged short weight in a grain transaction.

County Judge J. C. Hranac overruled a motion to dismiss the complaint made by defense attorneys at Monday's preliminary hearing.

Sisco and Keller were released on bonds of $3,000 each.

County Attorney F. J. Coufal said he had no idea when the case would come to trial.

Nebraska Safety Patrolmen arrested Sisco and Keller March 4. The two men were charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, obtaining a signature on a check by fraud, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and conspiracy to commit a felony.

Witnesses at the preliminary hearing included Miss Martha Peto, owner of the David City grain firm involved in the transaction; three employees of the firm, and state Patrolmen Norman Patterson.

Mrs. Lee Ends School Duties

HARRISBURG, Neb. (AP)—More than 30 years as Banner County school superintendent ended Monday for Mrs. Kathryn Lee, 68, of Harrisburg. Mrs. Lee has resigned.

Mrs. Lee notes that many changes have taken place during those years. Foremost is the elimination of school districts—from 28 with 27 different schools to one.

Block, Bridle Judging Meet Set Saturday

The Block and Bridle Livestock Judging Contest will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, April 6, in the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture horse barn judging pavilion.

Harvey Jorgensen, Curtis, president of the University of Nebraska Block and Bridle chapter, reports that the contest is divided into two divisions. The senior division will include men who have been working out for the junior livestock judging team. All other contestants will compose the junior division, he said.

"A meats judging contest has been added as a new feature this year," Jorgensen said. "It is open to all students and will begin at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Meats Laboratory."

Cattle, hogs and sheep will be judged by each contestant in the livestock contests. Ribbons will be awarded to the high individual in each livestock division and to the top ten over-all winners.

All awards will be made at the Block and Bridle's annual banquet set for April 26. The high team in the contest will receive a traveling plaque.

Dr. Rogers Will Address Annual NU Ag Breakfast

The annual University of Nebraska pre-Easter breakfast will be held in the Activities building on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus at 7 a.m. next Sunday.

Dr. Vance Rogers, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, will be guest speaker. Choral music will be furnished by the College Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Altina Tullis.

The breakfast, sponsored each year by the Agricultural College Religious Council, offers an opportunity for faculty and students of all denominations to worship together.

Seaton Cancels Engagements Due To Back Injury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Seaton is canceling all scheduled engagements until about the middle of May because of his continued hospitalization for an old back injury.

The secretary has been at Walter Reed Army Hospital since March 7.

An aide said no decision has

been reached on whether surgery will be required, but he added the secretary has not been doing as well for the past 10 days.

It is now expected that Seaton will have to take things easy for several weeks after leaving the hospital, whether or not there is an operation.

Seaton says he is suffering from what is generally described as a "slipped disc."

The trouble is an outgrowth of an injury received while playing kid football.

Many Factors Enter Picture In Reduced Wheat Failures

Editor's Note: The following is an abstract of a paper on "Wheat Failure in Western Nebraska, 1931-1954: Trends, Causes, and Implications" given by Professor Leslie Hewes, University of Nebraska, Monday during the session of the 53rd annual convention of the Association of American Geographers, Cincinnati, O.

The Great Plains have the reputation of being a "problem area." Much of this reputation is based on the risks connected with dry farming of wheat. This paper deals with changes in the failure of wheat in western Nebraska since the great drought of the 1930's.

The amount of change has been large—from over 30 per cent of failure to roughly one-third as much or even less in most of the region. There are several causes. Increased amount and efficiency of summer fallow, in which a crop is grown every other year, together account for reduced failure throughout, particularly at the western margin.

Weather Conditions In about half of the area, less dry autumns and less dry July to June periods preceding harvest constitute a major improvement in weather which has reduced failure.

In a large area, lessened wind damage is probably an important cause of reduced failure.

The causes mentioned are not adequate to explain all the improvement that has taken place. Probably better "know-how" and equipment; power machinery, permitting prompt attention; reduced

Bill Affecting Teachers Colleges' Tuition Killed

A bill which would have required Nebraska's four-state teachers' colleges to charge non-residents double the tuition charged Nebraska students was killed, 28-6, Monday by the Legislature.

Sen. John Donner of Elgin, co-introducer of LB 509 with Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, joined in urging the bill's defeat.

Since the measure was introduced, the State Normal Board has ordered tuition increases into effect starting next fall. The new tuition schedule charges non-residents twice the tuition for resident students and thus puts the schools—at Kearney, Chadron, Peru and Wayne—into compliance with the intent of LB 509.

Sen. Don Thompson of McCook cited figures tending to show that the new tuition rates run higher than the rates for comparable schools in adjoining states.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff queried Sen. Karl Vogel of Omaha, chairman of the Budget Committee, on the relationship of tuition revenue to appropriations.

Sen. Vogel said he takes the view that if tuition rates are increased, the additional revenue should be deducted from the amount appropriated to the schools from the state's general fund.

"Not Much to Spend"

Sen. Carpenter recommended that it be made known to the schools that any increase in tuition "won't give them more money to spend."

The Legislature advanced from general file LB 427, revising warehouse charges made by the State Railway commission to take into account warehouse capacities. It gives grain truckers the status of warehousemen and staggers the due date on grain warehouse licenses and bonds as an aid to the work load of the State Railway Commission.

RESOLUTION CALLS FOR PROBE OF TRADE SCHOOL

A legislative investigation of the Milford Trade School was asked Monday in a resolution introduced by Sen. John Munnely of Omaha, author of an earlier bill to abolish the school.

Munnely's resolution calls for the appointment of a five member committee of legislators to investigate the school, "as well as any other state institution where practices could be corrected that would result in the saving of tax dollars."

The resolution said the request results from "rumors, charges and counter charges" involving the school.

Munnely's bill to abolish the school, LB 577, was killed by the Education Committee after a public hearing.

Munnely has complained that the school, in effect, used tax funds to fight abolishment. He also has charged that the State Education Department and Trade School Supt. Lowell Welch released "inaccurate enrollment figures" to back a request for additional tax funds.

NEW!

for women in "MIDDLE LIFE"

Wrinkles—Age Spots—Weathered Blemishes
—Frayed Nerves—Weariness—
Give way to new youthfulness

Now women in "Middle Life" can look younger, feel younger, act younger thanks to a new two-pronged attack on the body's aging process called "Integrated Therapy." The first such treatment of its kind, "I. T.", as it is called, acts to hold back the heart-breaking effects of getting old—fades age spots, acts on wrinkles and crow's feet, revives and enlivens the skin tissues, and erases surface blemishes caused by weather and neglect. Even weathered brown spots fade. At the same time it helps internal glands stay active, adds energy, vivacity, helps the "joy of living" to return.

What Is "Integrated Therapy?"

Integrated Therapy is a brand new combination of an approved internal "booster" capsule and an effective external application. It is the development of a trustworthy 36-year-old laboratory. The capsules, taken one each day, are loaded with non-fattening vitamins, minerals and other medically improved tonic ingredients especially recommended for aging people. The ointment provides the maximum daily allotment of female hormones to the skin, effectively counteracts the skin darkness and dry, spotted look of middle aged women.

Why I. T. Was Created

I. T. was specially created because youthful beauty begins to fade, women grow nervous, irritable, feel frustrated and useless as "middle life" approaches. Since the symptoms show up externally in wrinkled skin, the sagging throat line and spotted, darkened hands, as well as internally in frayed nerves and lowered glandular function—both external and internal corrective measures are used to provide what has never before been offered—an integrated plan for reviving youthfulness—thus Integrated Therapy.

When to Expect Results

In just 10 days you should see and feel results, as skin takes on a new tone, wrinkles grow dimmer, skin is softer, smoother—you begin to look and feel younger. After 30 days your outward appearance and internal feeling of well being will amaze you, your family and friends. You should begin to enjoy a new participation in all the pleasures of youthful living you thought were lost forever.

Special Introductory Price

To try INTEGRATED THERAPY, take advantage of this unusual offer: The two components of this new therapy are priced at 3.50 each—or 7.00 for both. During this introductory period, you can purchase both units for only 6.00—a savings of 1.00. The two units will give you a 30-day supply of both the external preparation and the internal "booster" therapy. In just 10 days you should look younger, feel younger, even act younger. At the end of the 30 days, you can be thrilled at the transformation in your appearance—wrinkles going or gone, dark areas or spots lightened, skin dryness conquered—at the new lightness in your step, the new brightness in your eyes, the return of confidence and joy of living. Start following Integrated Therapy today. Look younger—feel younger—act younger.
